– A Message from Father Ned Brown –

DRESSED FOR THE FEAST

My dad used to say a lot of borderline humorous sayings that would make my mom's eyes roll. "From the book of Siberious, 'Few are thawed but many are frozen.' She would just shake her head and say either "You're sick George" or "George, you're just not right." All us boys would laugh. I guess you had to be there.

Today's Gospel (Matthew 22:1-4) is the origin of my dad's twisted take and is certainly much less humorous: "Many are invited, but few are chosen." The readings speak to us of our call to heaven. We are challenged to ask ourselves then: "Do you want what God wants for you?" Do you even know He wants this for you? Is your mind, heart and soul fixed on His goal for you?

The Father of our Lord Jesus Christ wants to enlighten the eyes of our hearts, so that we may know the hope that belongs to our call. That hope has a name. It is heaven: the wedding feast of the Lamb, the eternal banquet Isaiah saw on the mountain of the Lord. It is a place at a table.

On this mountain, Isaiah says, the Lord of hosts will make for all peoples a feast of rich food and well-refined wine. He will swallow up death forever and wipe away tears from all faces. "This is the Lord; we have waited for him; let us be glad and rejoice in his salvation" (Isaiah 25:6-9). The psalm answers with the same hunger. "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." He leads us in right paths; even in the dark valley we fear no evil, for he is with us. "You prepare a table before me... my cup overflows." Goodness and mercy follow us, "and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever" (Psalm 23:1-6). Heaven is the house God has prepared, and the desire He plants in us.

When we pray "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven," we ask that our wants be remade until we want what the Father wants: His children home at the feast. "Come to the marriage feast" (Matthew 22:4). Some make light of it and turn back to farm or attend business. The king does not cancel the wedding. He sends servants into the streets to gather "all whom they found, both bad and good," until the hall is filled (Matthew 22:10). Isaiah had already said the feast was for all peoples. The King wants the room full.

There is however the King's warning and it is real, it is meant to wake us up! "For many are called, but few are chosen" (Matthew 22:11-14). Being invited is not the same as being ready. Being thrown into the outer darkness is the sorrow of having been invited to joy and choosing something much smaller. But at the parable's heart is not the expulsion. It remains to be the feast. God has already prepared the banquet. He has already sent the invitation. He even supplies what we need to answer it. St. Paul, writing from need and from plenty, tells the Philippians that he can do all things in the One who strengthens him, and that God will fully supply every need according to his riches in Christ Jesus. The garment is not something we sew alone. It is Christ's own charity, given to us and lived out by us.

What is the missing garment? Isaiah speaks of the garments of salvation and the robe of righteousness (Isaiah 61:10). St. Gregory the Great said the wedding garment is love: one may stand in the Church and have faith, yet lack charity. Jesus says the same thing plainly. "Not every one who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven" (Matthew 7:21). Those sent away among the goats did not feed the hungry, clothe the naked, welcome the stranger, or visit the sick (Matthew 25:35-36). The garment is righteousness lived in love. Love is self sacrificing and self giving to the beloved.

We do not sew that robe by worry. St. Paul, who knew abundance and need, wrote, "I can do all things in him who strengthens me," and "my God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 4:12-13, 19). The Lord who prepares the table supplies the strength to live worthy of it.

At Baptism, we were clothed in white and told to bring that garment unstained into the eternal kingdom. Every act of mercy and every quiet yes to the Father's will keeps the robe on. Desire for heaven becomes real when it moves our will and steadies our hands for the work ahead. Many are called. The hall is large. The King wants it full. Let us want what He wants, and dress for the feast He has prepared!

There was also a bus safety lesson for the little ones as well, Last Thursday was the homecoming parade. The theme was "Double Dare." RECEIVING THE TRAVELING VOCATIONS CHALICE in their home from October 4-17 is the Aaron and Brooke Condon family. If you wish to sign up to have the chalice and vocation activities in your home, visit our website at nwv.church; click on "Parishes" on the left side bar, followed by "St. Remy," "Schedules," and "St. Remy Vocations Chalice Registration." You may also contact Carla at the parish office.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR SOMEONE TO VOLUNTEER AS A WEDDING COORDINATOR in our parish. There are two women who are currently serving in this role, and we are looking for one more. Responsibilities include being present at wedding rehearsals and on the day of the wedding, to assist the bride and groom and bridal party, as well as to set the book for the lectors and set up the altar for wedding Masses and ceremonies. OUR SOPHOMORES WILL BE CONFIRMED AT THE 4:30 P.M. MASS ON SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17. Please note that this Mass will be crowded, so you may wish to attend Mass on Sunday. During October, Mass attendance numbers are reported to the archdiocese, so please plan to make a special effort to attend Mass at St. Remy to ensure that our parish will continue to be a vibrant place where Mass is celebrated frequently.

PLEASE PRAY FOR OUR CONFIRMATION CANDIDATES, who are being confirmed at the 4:30 p.m. Mass next Saturday, October 17. May they open their hearts to the Holy Spirit and allow Him to guide them as they strive to faithfully live out their lives as members of the Holy Catholic Church and bring other souls to Christ. WOMEN'S BOOK STUDY ON SPIRITUAL MOTHERHOOD

We are excited to begin a yearlong women's study centered around the book Spiritual Motherhood by Lisa Brennkemeyer. This will be a beautiful opportunity to grow in faith, deepen our relationship with Christ, and discover the many ways God calls women to nurture, encourage, pray for, and spiritually mother those around us. We will explore what Sacred Scripture and the Catechism of the Catholic Church teach us about spiritual motherhood and what that calling can look like in our own lives.

There will be 25 gatherings throughout the year, but there is no requirement to attend them all. Come to every gathering; come when your schedule allows; read the book and follow along on your own; join us for the Women's Day in October of 2027. All are welcome, no matter how much or how little you can participate. We believe you will get more from the readings when you gather together with others, sharing your own thoughts, learning from one another, and growing in faith and friendship, but we understand how busy life can be. We want this to be an invitation, not an obligation!

Our first six-week sessions will be held at the Immaculata Barn on Paul and Sarah Fullenkamp's property at 10160 Darke-Shelby Co. Line Road on the following Saturdays: October 17, 24, and 31, and November 7, 14, and 21. We will begin promptly at 8:30 a.m. and end at 9:45 a.m. out of respect for everyone's time. Anyone who would like to stay afterward to visit or continue the conversation is welcome to do so.

Our year together will conclude with a special Women's Day October of 2027 to celebrate and bring together the themes we have explored throughout the year. You do not need to attend the study or read the book to attend Women's Day. Whether you are 19 or 100, married or single, a mother or not, new to studying your faith or someone who has been doing it for years, there is a place for you here. Come as you are; come when you can. For more information, to sign up to attend the gatherings, or to order the book ($45.00), call or text Sarah Fullenkamp at 937-417-5815 by October 11. You may also wish to access www.walkingwithpurpose.com to explore more growth opportunities.

WE ARE IN NEED OF USHERS FOR THE 9:00 A.M. AND 11:00 A.M. MASSES. Ushers are asked to volunteer for one month at a time, four times per year, and can trade with other ushers if necessary. Please contact Maria at the parish office for more information.
