BIBLE COMMUNITY

THE BIBLICAL FOUNDATION

The New Testament describes the church as the ekklesia—those called out from the world to belong to Christ and His Kingdom (1 Peter 2:9–10).

The church was never meant to be:

- a religious event
- a spiritual marketplace
- a hierarchy-driven institution

It was meant to be a people shaped by Jesus who live together under His authority for the sake of the world. Frontier Bible Community seeks to live out that calling by forming a visible, embodied community of disciples.

A COUNTER-CULTERAL CHURCH

Frontier Bible Community exists to form a people who live as the ekklesia—the called-out ones of Jesus Christ —who embody His Kingdom together in everyday life.

In a culture where church has often become a weekly event, a performance, or a consumer experience, Frontier Bible Community seeks to recover the ancient, biblical vision of a discipling community where believers grow, work, worship, and serve together as apprentices of Jesus.

Our aim is not merely to gather crowds but to form disciples who live differently—people whose lives demonstrate the wisdom, authority, and love of Christ in every sphere of life.

This means rediscovering rhythms of community, stewardship of creation, shared work, spiritual formation, and mission.

OUR MISSION

Forge Disciples | Live Sent | Never Settle

Frontier Bible Community is a people committed to forging disciples through real-life formation, living as those sent by Jesus into every sphere of life, and refusing to settle for anything less than wholehearted obedience to Him. We are not building an institution—we are building a movement of disciples who live with grit, purpose, and unshakable faith.

FORGE DISCIPLES
Disciples aren't made casually—they're forged.

Like steel in fire, we believe disciples are formed through:

- truth and obedience to Scripture
- shared life and accountability
- challenge, hardship, and perseverance
- real-world application, not just information

We are not content with shallow belief. We aim for deep transformation.

LIVE SENT
Every believer is a missionary.

We reject the idea that mission is a program, sending money, or a trip. Instead, we believe…

- our home is a mission field
- our work is a mission field
- our community is a mission field

To "live sent" means we wake up with purpose, carrying the authority and message of Jesus into everyday life.

OUR MISSION (CONT.)

NEVER SETTLE

We refuse:

- passive faith
- spiritual comfort
- cultural compromise

We pursue:

- holiness over convenience
- obedience over opinion
- mission over maintenance

“Never settle” is a call to endurance and grit—to keep going when it’s hard, to keep growing when it’s uncomfortable, and to keep trusting when it costs.

We exist to forge resilient disciples of Jesus through intentional, hands-on formation in community, equipping them to live sent into everyday life on mission, and to never settle for comfort, complacency, or cultural Christianity.

THE FRONTIER MINDSET

The name Frontier reflects both geography and calling.

Frontiers are places where:

- things are built
- pioneers take risks
- communities depend on one another
- new ground is cultivated

In the same way, Frontier Bible Community seeks to recover the pioneering spirit of the early church.

MISSION AS A WAY OF LIFE

Mission will not be treated as a program but as a lifestyle of Kingdom presence.

Frontier Bible Community exists not only for itself but for the surrounding community.

Mission will include:

- serving local families
- mentoring youth
- agricultural education
- hospitality and shared meals
- evangelism through relationships
- Open air preaching

As people encounter a real community living differently, they see a glimpse of the Kingdom of God.

THE CULTURE OF SHARED WORK

In modern society, many people live disconnected from meaningful labor and tangible contribution. Frontier Bible Community seeks to restore a culture where work becomes discipleship.

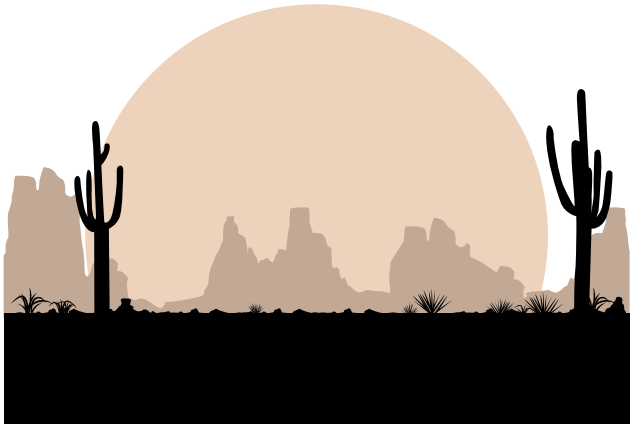

Members participate in:

- community gardens
- livestock care
- building projects
- food production
- local service

These shared tasks create natural opportunities for mentoring, teaching, and deep relationships.

Work becomes a context where:

- character is shaped
- wisdom is passed down
- discipleship happens organically

LEARNING THROUGH CREATION

Scripture consistently uses creation as a teacher: Jesus taught about the Kingdom through seeds, soil, vineyards, sheep, and weather.

Frontier Bible Community embraces the idea that creation is a classroom designed by God. We will cultivate environments where disciples learn through:

- agriculture
- animal stewardship
- wilderness experiences
- outdoor skills
- physical labor
- hands-on craftsmanship

These activities teach biblical truths such as:

- Seedtime and harvest — Galatians 6:7
- Faithfulness in small things — Luke 16:10
- Patience and endurance — James 5:7
- Stewardship of creation — Genesis 2:15

Working the land, caring for animals, and cultivating food become spiritual formation practices, not merely hobbies.

OUTDOOR ADVENTURE DISCIPLESHIP

Frontier Bible Community will develop a culture of adventure-based discipleship, where physical challenge becomes a context for spiritual growth.

Examples include:

- wilderness retreats
- backpacking discipleship trips
- survival and bushcraft training
- ropes courses and leadership challenges
- hunting and fishing trips

Adventure strips away comfort and reveals the heart. In those moments, disciples learn:

- courage
- trust in God
- teamwork
- leadership
- perseverance

The wilderness has always been a place where God forms His people.

THE GOAL

Our success will not be measured by attendance or buildings.

It will be measured by:

- disciples made
- families strengthened
- leaders raised up
- the gospel spreading
- lives transformed

Because the mission of the church is simple:

Make disciples who make disciples.
