

BRADBEERS BID YOU WELCOME!

If you, like so many of us in these days of stress and strain, are seeking a break from the daily burden of noise and tension, Go Boating. Go Boating the Bradbeer way on the Norfolk Broads. There you can still find peace and relaxation in the sunniest part of Great Britain. All the interest of Norwich and all the entertainment of Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft is close at hand.

At boatyards throughout Broadland you and your family can rely on the friendly, helpful Bradbeer service. You can rely on it right from the time you book your holiday until you leave the Broads with so many pleasant memories to ponder on during the dark days of winter.

Now that Bradbeer Owners have pioneered central heating on cruisers it means that extra week's holiday you have to take very early or very late can be spent afloat in comfort. It provides ideal conditions for the enthusiastic angler wishing to make the most of those best fishing months, October and November.

As this brochure goes to press the flow of bookings for 1968 has already started – in fact many Hirers re-book at the end of one holiday for the next.

Telephone Lowestoft (S.T.D. Code 0502) 3172 and make YOUR booking now. It doesn't matter what time it is; TAM will take your message.

We look forward to the pleasure of arranging your 1968 Broadland holiday.

GOOD ADVICE FROM Skipper HARRY GRIFFIN

May I introduce you to these famous Norfolk Broads? The main rivers are the Yare, the Waveney, the Bure and the Ant and connecting with these are the Broads (they are really big lakes) tributaries and cuts. In all there are 200 miles of lock-free safe waterways.

Select any route, and you will discover a wealth of interesting horizons and pleasant, peaceful scenery. It will alternate between marshland, and tree or reed fringed scenery. Around every bend is a surprise: every hour afloat is a joy. And the upper reaches of the rivers and the out-of-the-way waterways are ideal for studying wild-life and all that sort of thing!

Choose your boat from Bradbeers. They are the friendly organisation with the easy to handle boats. Go the Bradbeer way and there is no need to be apprehensive at the thought of handling a cruiser – controls are simple with only forward and reverse gear, throttle lever and steering wheel – hundreds of novices every year are amazed at the simplicity of it all.

Bradbeer boatyard Owners from whom you receive your boat, will give you a trial run and be pleased to answer any queries you may have.

To the newcomer – have no qualms about your first Broadland holiday.

Who will be with you on the Broads? What sort of people go cruising and sailing with the Bradbeer fleet? Those are questions I am often asked. And the answer is incredibly simple: every type imaginable! You'll find everyone from car makers and chemists from Chorlton-cum-Hardy to painters and politicians (of all colours) from Penzance. A Bradbeer Broads holiday caters for all sorts and conditions of man. The young and the old (and middle aged!) alike. On the Broads with Bradbeers you'll find showbiz people, bird watchers (of both types!), anglers, historians and sailing enthusiasts. Come and join them. Come and share the freedom and relaxation. Come and appreciate the ever-changing scenery and wonderful floating accommodation all your own. With Bradbeers you can be sure of a real whale of a time!

Don't just take my word for it, read what Hirers have to say on pages 11 and 12.

Catering for your Family

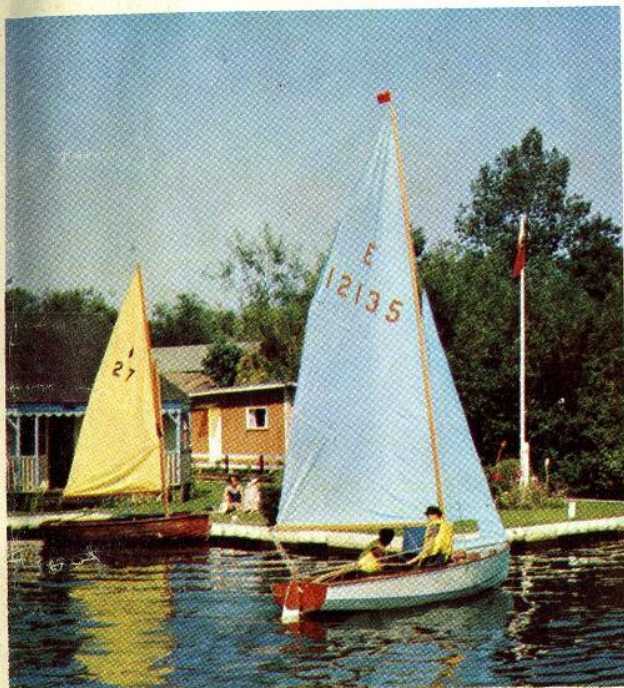

Catering for your family in the novel surroundings of being afloat is no problem at all in Bradbeer's Broadland. During the summer the many stores which fringe the Broads are chock-a-block with fresh, locally grown fruit and other produce. And as you will want to be sure of provisions on the day you arrive, just fill in the order form which you will receive with your Hire invoice. Send it DIRECT to the stores to arrive a few days before you start your holiday. Make sure your name, the name of the boat and date required, are clearly given so that the groceries can be delivered.

River and Broadside Pubs

For some, yachting and boating can be thirsty work and an abundance of homely pubs provide a pleasant evening or a lunch-time break with good company.

ALL ABOUT SAILING WITH THE

Tides

What more is there to interest you before you go? Let's start off with the tides. This is an important subject. Always make sure you come in to moor against the tide. If you are passing through Gt. Yarmouth Yacht Station make sure to consult the tide table first. Always use this chart and you can't go wrong. You'll save time and money too.

Places of Interest

To my mind there's nothing quite like a Norfolk windmill. And there are still plenty to see. And, obviously I am not alone in this for Bradbeer Boatyard Owners have contributed £1,000 to restore that fine old mill at Horsey.

You'll discover quaint villages with magnificent churches. The old Roman fort of Burgh Castle, too, is worth a visit any day. And don't forget that fine city Norwich – capital of Norfolk – and its splendid Cathedral and Castle Museum.

Maps and Publications

For finding your way around the rivers and broads, charts or a map are almost essential. It is worthwhile, then, to obtain one of the many informative publications which are available (see page 102). In this connection Bradbeers send their booklet 'Broad Hints' to every hirer, with the final invoice.

Angling

Perch, dace, bream, roach and pike. Yes, these are the Broads fish which will provide wonderful sport for anglers, skilled or otherwise. Close season, when normal fishing is not permitted, is from 14th March to 16th June, but you can fish on Easter Monday, 15th April (and the three preceding days) also on Whit Monday 3rd June (and preceding two days).

A licence is needed for each rod and these are available from Harry F. G. Griffin, 2 Wildwood Avenue, Mount Pleasant Lane, Bricket Wood, Watford Herts. Tel.: Garston 3042. A remittance for 5/6d. includes postage.

Pets

Pets are allowed on most Bradbeer boats, and the charge made is £1 per week for each pet. Where pets are not accepted this is clearly indicated on individual descriptive pages.

Cruisers, Yachts and Houseboats

Just to mention the wonderful Bradbeer accommodation available, a full list of which is at the back of this brochure. The motor cruisers are easy to operate: all the controls are conveniently grouped and no driving licence is required. There is plenty of space and comfortable beds; a fully fitted galley with excellent cooking facilities. There is a Bradbeer boat to suit your size of party, but perfectly.

Fuel consumption depends mainly on the size of craft but the average is about 1½ cruising hours to a gallon. And of course there are the yachts with auxiliary engines. Personally I'm very fond of sailing. There's nothing like being propelled by nature itself! But should you require a little assistance, you'll find Bradbeer yachts are fitted with inboard engines.

And finally the houseboats, these are permanently moored at the prettiest holiday spots. You can enjoy a life of comfort and relaxation. It goes without saying, that there are good kitchen and cooking facilities.

ADVICE SERVICE

My "Advice Service" is free to all of you, and I feel that it must be particularly appreciated by people who have not previously been on the Broads. I am prepared to discuss any problems connected with a Broadland holiday either by telephone or letter. But if you write to me a stamped addressed envelope must be sent. My telephone number and address has already been given but to make it easy for you, I give it again. Harry F. G. Griffin, 2 Wildwood Avenue, Mount Pleasant Lane, Bricket Wood, Watford, Herts. Tel.: Garston 3042.

I was very impressed by the way you run to fine details in making a person's holiday on the Broads a really "ONE TO BE REMEMBERED", that I wish to come again, only this time, to bring more of my family; in all approx. 8 persons. Would you therefore be good enough to forward your new catalogue for the 1968 Season. Thanking you once again for the marvellous week this year, next year will be two weeks.

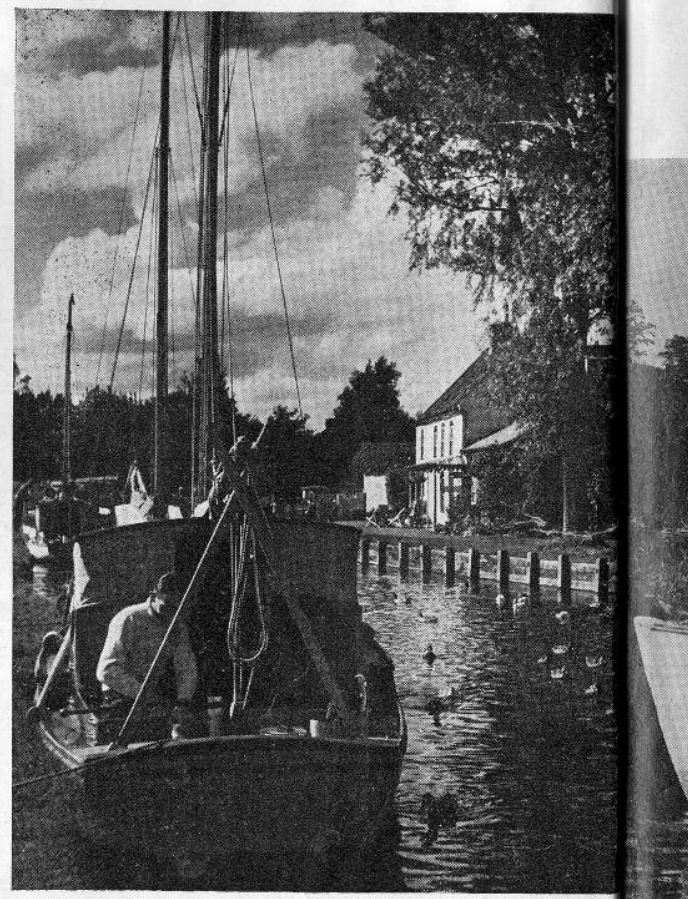

M.J., READING, Berks.

On July 1st, this year, my cousin and I started one week's holiday on the craft "Dusky Belle". This was our first holiday and both of us agree that it was truly our best we thoroughly enjoyed ourselves. The boat was ideal for the two of us, and the weather couldn't have been any better, too. Naturally we were sorry when we had to hand the boat over and go back home, so we decided, almost immediately, to have another holiday on the broads next year.

Next year we would like a larger craft because we intend to bring a couple of friends with us. As there is still five months of this year to go, I do not expect you to have a copy of your 1968 booklet, but I would like you to send me one as soon as they are printed so that I may book a craft early.

A few more comments from hirers about BRADBEER'S BROADLAND

Christmas 1966. I am writing to say how thrilled we were by the wonderful reception given to us by Mr. J. L. of Brundall. The Motor Cruiser — Erikin — must be easily among the very best on the whole of the Norfolk Broads. All the time we were on holiday the temperature was below freezing and the boat was iced in but we were lovely and warm as the Central Heating was so efficient.

May I compliment you on the very high standard of this craft, which was so well equipped — even with hotwater bottles. I have been coming to the Norfolk Broads now twice a year for the last six years and this was easily the best service I have received from any boatyard and the best craft I have ever spent a holiday on.

R.J.O., BRIGHTON, Sussex

Having recently completed my second annual holiday on "Shady Brook" (formerly Teena 1) I should like to express my complete satisfaction with the boat and service offered by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. B.

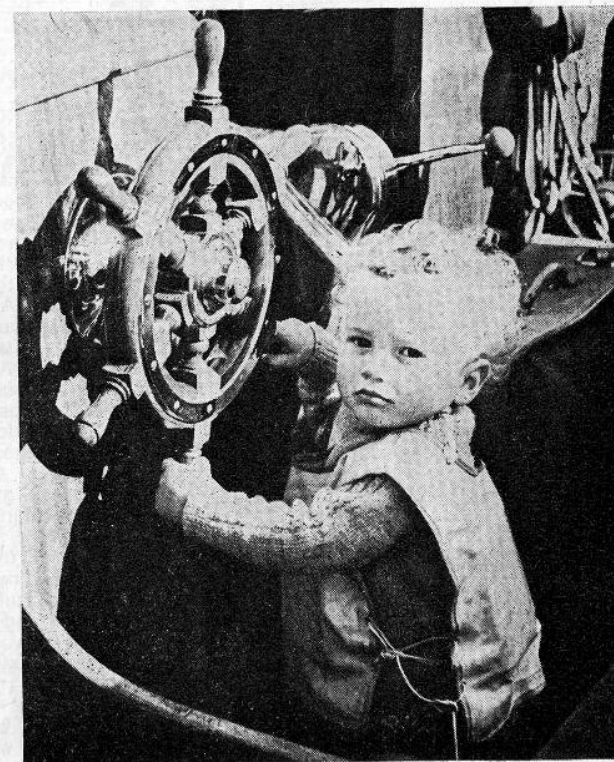

Many miles were covered and never once did the boat fail to start or falter. Having had other boats on the Broads I can say that in my opinion these boats are reliable, extremely comfortable and real value for money.

I would have no hesitation in booking one of these boats again and sincerely hope I shall be in a position to take one on again in 1968.

H.E.H., CHINNFORDE, E.4.

I am writing, rather belatedly I must admit, to thank you for all your assistance in helping us to have a really lovely holiday — one which we hope to repeat in the not too distant future. We were very impressed with the very high standard maintained in every way.

*Make the most of your
by Learning to Sail*

Sailing is fast becoming one of the more popular pastimes in this country and throughout the World today. New exciting yachts such as the "GEE" class are being built and many people are discovering the enjoyment which is unique to this sport. Why not become one of them?

We can now arrange tuition in sailing at the "BROADS SCHOOL OF SAILING AND SEAMANSHIP" at Martham, on some of the finest "sailing water" on the Broads. The school has craft to suit all tastes, from a 9 ft. dinghy to a 30 ft. fully equipped yacht.

Whether you are a newcomer to sailing or require more advanced instruction, there is a course especially designed for YOU. If your sailing has become "rusty" a refresher course is available or if your experience is limited to smaller craft and dinghies, a few days with a 20 ft. half-decker, with expert advice and guidance can be arranged.

The Norfolk Naturalists' Trust

Norfolk has long been recognised as outstanding for its wealth of wild life and its great variety of natural beauty. The county is most fortunate in that it contains the beautiful Breckland and the unique Broads system, in addition to which it has a delightful coastline.

Norfolk was the first county in Great Britain to organise nature conservation. This was effected by the establishment of the Norfolk Naturalists' Trust, which is an independant body and a registered charity. The Trust was founded in 1926 for the purpose of acquiring properties in Norfolk and on its borders which require protection as nature reserves, and holding these in perpetuity. The principal concern of the Trust is conservation, and it is now responsible for over twenty properties covering some 4,000 acres of the county.

The Norfolk Naturalists' Trust now owns or leases seven areas in Broadland. By acquiring these properties and designating them as nature reserves the Trust has been able to conserve the natural habitats, and has succeeded in encouraging several of the now comparatively rare species of birds to return and nest in Broadland. Much has been achieved by redeveloping reed and sedge beds in areas which before their acquisition by the Trust had been the primary sources of reed for thatching and other uses. The seven Broadland reserves are as follows :

Starch Grass Martham; 26 acres purchased 1928; designated as a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

Alderfen Broad; 72 acres purchased in 1930; designated as a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

Hickling Broad and Heigham Sound; 715 acres purchased and 500 acres leased in 1945; designated as a National Nature Reserve.

Barton Broad; 347 acres, half gift and half purchased in 1945 and 1952; designated as a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

Surlingham Broad; 253 acres purchased in 1948; designated as a Proposed National Nature Reserve.

Ranworth Broad; 124 acres, given to the Trust in 1949; forms part of the Bure Marshes National Nature Reserve.

Cockshoot Broad; 12 acres, given to the Trust in 1949; forms part of the Bure Marshes National Nature Reserve.

Of these reserves, those at Hickling, Barton and Surlingham Broads are directly accessible to river craft.

The Trust provides facilities for a limited number of visitors to some of the reserves, which may be used for both scientific and educational purposes. Observation hides are provided at certain of these reserves, such as Hickling and Ranworth.

The Trust always welcomes new members, who have the satisfaction of knowing that they are playing a constructive part in saving at least some areas of the rapidly changing landscape of Norfolk. Members receive an Annual Report on the activities of the Trust and they have the opportunity of purchasing Christmas cards with colour reproductions of bird and animal studies, painted specially for the Trust. Further details of membership and the nature reserves may be obtained from the Secretary at the address below.

you need THE BROADS BOOK

It's all there in the Broads Book, the most popular and most detailed of all guides to the Norfolk Broads. Large scale maps get you there easily and confidently by road, rail and water and enable you to cover the whole of this uniquely fascinating water-maze. Churches, bridges, fishing places and 'phone boxes are pin-pointed on large scale maps. We find you the pub for refreshment, the restaurant for a meal, the hotel for a stay. Towns and villages are laid wide open in extra detailed maps. Rivers are charted in detail with an accuracy that makes everyone a 'Master Mariner'. The mystique of tidal calculations is revealed by a unique simple-to-use tide computer. Moorings, boatyards, petrol stations, shopping centres—all you need for a carefree holiday on the Broads—collected in one book.

The Bradbeer Organisation on other Waterways

It is only natural that some of our regular Broads Hirers should, from time to time, feel they would like to cruise elsewhere for a change. To meet this demand, Bradbeers carried out a survey of the various rivers and decided the Irish Waterways, the River Thames and some of the English and Welsh Canals offered the most attractive and varied alternatives.

YOU NEED NOT LOOK ELSEWHERE, THE BRADBEER SERVICE COVERS THE BROADS, THE IRISH WATERWAYS, THE THAMES AND CANALS

THE IRISH WATERWAYS can provide you with every type of cruising you require, plus an angler's paradise.

ON THE RIVER SHANNON you have about 130 miles of navigation plus thirteen lakes, large and small. The two largest lakes—one of these, Lough Derg, 24 miles long and 3 miles wide — are on the southern half of the river and give the experienced hirer the opportunity for real navigation. Those with less experience will find all they want on the upper reaches of the river, including some beautiful cruising areas such as Lough Key.

THE GRAND CANAL, running from Dublin to the Shannon, has an appeal of its own—both to the canal enthusiast and the complete novice. In some respects it is similar to the finest of the English canals but has the attraction of being in another country. It passes through the centre of Ireland, by 'lost' hamlets where you will find the celebrated Irish friendliness and hospitality at their very best. A branch line also leads to the River Barrow, one of the prettiest of all the waterways, and this with the main canal gives about 160 miles in addition to the Shannon navigation.

THE ENGLISH AND WELSH CANALS comprise a network of some 2,000 miles of navigable waterway, winding, for the greater part, through many of the more remote rural areas and away from the main roads and towns. You will certainly discover quaint villages and scenic beauty which you are unlikely to find in any other way. Along with the standard type of cruiser we can also offer the traditional narrow boats.

MEMBERS OF THE BRADBEER GROUP OF BOATOWNERS are based on all the above waterways and we shall be pleased to let you have particulars if you will complete and return the enquiry slip.

THE RIVER THAMES is, of course, renowned for its scenic beauty and historical associations. Such names as Hampton Court Palace, Windsor Castle, Eton and Oxford are part of the history of England and can all be visited in the course of a cruise. Also famous are the old riverside inns and hotels where it is possible, not only to have a drink whilst overlooking the river, but also a first-class meal.
