Broadland Distance Guide

Assuming an average 4 mph, it's easy to work out how far you'll cruise on your holiday. For example: Wroxham to Oulton Broad and back (80 miles round-trip) = 20 hours cruising. That's four days of five hours cruising per day. It's a good idea to buy a map - Hoseasons map of the Broads (with distance tables) is good value. Order yours on your Booking Form on back page.

Cambridgeshire Waterways

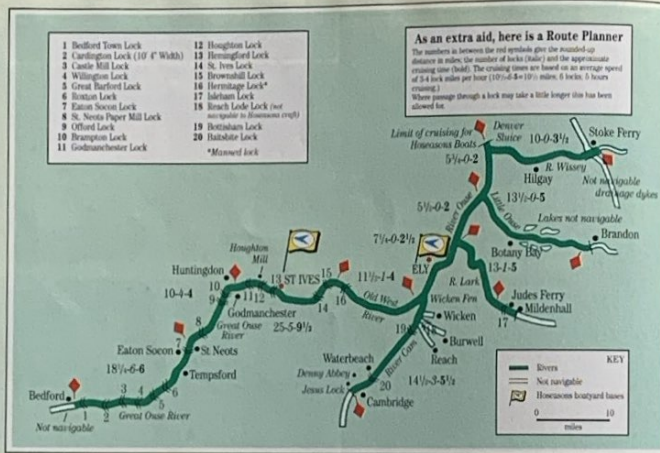

BOARD YOUR MOTOR
Cruiser in Ely or St. Ives and you can look forward to exploring 150 cruising miles along the rivers Ouse and Cam and their tributaries as they cross Cambridgeshire's fenlands.

UNHINDERED VIEWS OF FENS and fields and ever-changing skies are natural delights in this peaceful area, but there are plenty of man-made pleasures too.

FOLLOW THE CAM and you can wander around Cambridge and perhaps take a bus ride out to the Duxford Air Museum or to Newmarket, famous for its horse racing.

Ely AND ITS MAGNIFICENT CATHEDRAL are alongside the Ouse, while to the west you can visit Huntingdon, St. Neots and St. Ives.

THE FEW LOCKS you may come across are easily mastered. We'll provide you with a key (for which there's a returnable security deposit) and there's invariably a lock-keeper on standby to help out.

The Royal River Thames - England's famed and ancient waterway is the ideal choice for those looking for a boating holiday packed with interest and variety

IT TAKES MORE THAN ONE HOLIDAY, however, to see it all because the average pace, allowing for locks, is 3 miles an hour and there are 125 cruising miles between London and Lechlade in Gloucestershire.

SOCIAL PLEASURES on the Thames are as great as the scenic ones. The locks are natural meeting places where boaters often swap ideas on where to go and what to see and there are a wealth of riverside pubs and restaurants.

THE LOCKS, incidentally, are mechanically operated and as a lock-keeper does most of the work they're easy to pass through.

WHEN YOU WANT TO STOP FOR THE NIGHT or go ashore there are free moorings at all Hoseasons Group boatyards, at the clearly marked Thames Water Authority locations and along quiet stretches of the river. Stop at a riverside pub or restaurant and you may be offered a free mooring, but if you're close to a town centre expect to pay a 24-hour stopover fee - in Windsor for example this costs around £5.

WHAT YOU CAN SEE, and how much, will depend on where you decide to start from and how much energy you've got - whatever you decide Hoseasons offer you the best choice!

WORKING UPSTREAM from Kingston upon Thames highlights in store include Hampton Court and fun-filled Thorpe Park, then Runnymede and Windsor, Eton and Bray (home of the Roux brothers' Waterside Inn restaurant) followed by the Aslors' Cliveden estate. You can explore Cookham, Marlow and Henley before you reach Oxford and then comes Eynsham and a series of locks leading to Lechlade and the end of the Thames' navigable waters.

TO HELP DECIDE on what to see and do, order a Thames map and river guide when you make your booking.

The beautiful River Thames

The beautiful River Wey and

NEW FOR 1995

The Basingstoke Canal

The River Wey. A National Trust waterway of outstanding beauty on which you can cruise by narrowboat for 20 quiet miles between Godalming and the Thames. Wend your way along the Wey to discover a different aspect of Surrey.

The Basingstoke Canal was opened in 1991. This beautiful canal offers you 32 miles of unsurpassed natural beauty, stretching from Woodham to North Warnborough with 29 locks and a 1230 yard tunnel through Greywall Hill.

River Wey

Basingstoke Canal

If you have cruised the Royal River Thames before you will be well aware of the high standard of craft offered by T. W. Allen. Their many years of experience in boat hire is shown in the way the craft are presented and handed over to the visitors. Being a family-run boatyard, a friendly service is guaranteed and comprehensive instruction given to all visitors, especially those who have never cruised before.

Scotland's lochs

The open uncrowded waters of the Great Glen, from near Fort William to Inverness, have as their backdrop some of the most stunning scenery you could imagine

BOATING OR SAILING here is the ideal choice for both enthusiasts and those in search of a 'get away from it all' holiday in magnificent surroundings.

DISTANT MOUNTAINS will vie for your attention as you cruise or sail past rugged moors, forests or heather covered hills gently sloping to the water's edge. Here hidden coves, leafy glens and secluded inlets make idyllic stopping places for swimming, fishing, picnics or rambles in search of roaming deer or soaring osprey.

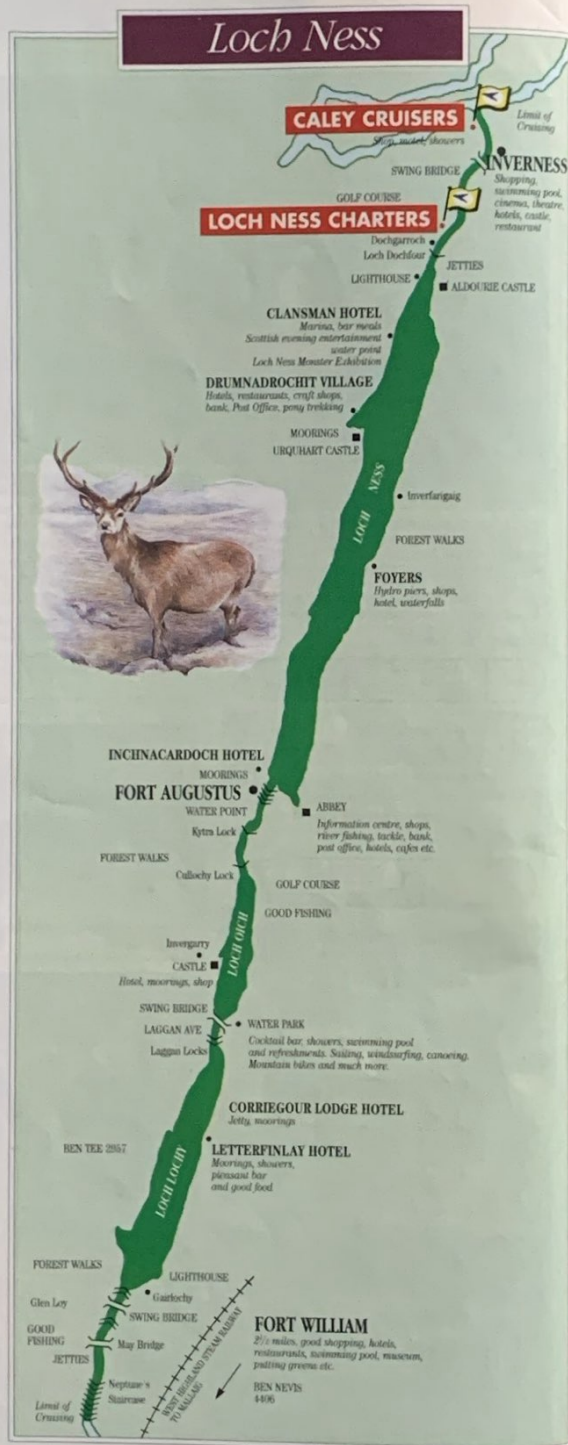

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS ashore include castles, towns and villages to explore, golf, riding, good food and a warm hospitality that will doubtless include a wee dram or two.

LOCH LOCHY, LOCH OICH and the breathtaking expanse of Loch Ness – 60 miles with its lochs and canals – provide excellent sailing opportunities and superb cruising for a truly memorable holiday.

ALONG THE CALEDONIAN CANAL, incidentally, locks are operated by lock-keepers and all costs are included in the hire charge.

YOUR CHOICE of aft-cockpit cruisers all have large windows through which you can fully appreciate the passing view, a spacious cockpit and deck areas on which to relax, soak up the sun or try a spot of fishing. An inflatable dinghy is provided as are buoyancy aids and all safety and boat handling gear.

EASY-HANDLING YACHTS, which can be hired if at least one member of your party has sailing experience, all have roller reefing headsails and inboard diesel engines. Well equipped, our wide range of yachts are also provided with an inflatable dinghy and safety aids to the highest standards.

Caley Cruisers, the leading boatyard in the Great Glen, offer you a fine fleet of sleek, aft cockpit cruisers. Designed for these spacious open water areas, the boats feature thoroughly practical interiors with all comforts; large windows to give excellent views of the breath-taking scenery, modern furnishings and decor with easy clean surfaces, plenty of wardrobe and storage space. Your up-to-date, labour-saving galley is beautifully equipped with all conveniences.

All boats have very spacious cockpit and deck areas for relaxing, fishing, sunbathing and sight seeing. Essential deck gear and seating is provided with safety guard rails.

FEATURES

- Shower and flush toilet.

- Heating.
- Spacious cockpit and deck areas.
