Improving Outcomes

and Psychosocial Care Working Group

Auditorium B
15th – 17th of April 2026

Join us to explore innovative interventions supporting children with congenital heart disease.

Children with congenital heart disease (CHD) are at increased risk for neurodevelopmental issues, particularly in executive functioning—critical for academic success and overall well-being. Despite growing recognition of these difficulties, effective, targeted interventions remain limited.

This conference will explore promising strategies to support neurodevelopmental, behavioral and mental health outcomes—we will examine interventions being implemented in the population of children with CHD but also those that have been successfully implemented in other populations, covering a wide range of ages and approaches.

Sessions will cover both conceptual frameworks and practical approaches to complex interventions, with insights from researchers, clinicians, and stakeholders.
