AFTERMATH - THE ROYAL MISTRESS IV TAKALANI M

When the Chief of Thavhakhulu, Mulatshawe, finds himself torn between serving his people as their ruler and his intense love for his mistreated queen Rialivhuwa, he makes a heart-wrenching choice to abandon his throne. Not wanting the burden of the collapsing kingdom to be shifted to a loner teenage successor to the throne, Joseph makes it his duty to persuade Mulatshawe to withdraw his decision to abdicate the throne. He goes on this mission alongside his high school friend who had always captured his heart and has power to turn him into a man he is not. Joseph aims to bring peace in the land of Thavhakhulu and the valleys below it but the truth he discovers along his journey makes his mission impossible as it threatens to tear the royal family apart. Aftermath is the fourth book in The Royal Mistress series by national bestselling author, Takalani M. Other titles in this series are: The Royal Mistress (book 1), Adelaide (book 2), and The Rival (book 3).

THE SHRINK BRIGITTA ZWANI

After having lived abroad for a few years, Tebogo moves back home to Botswana. The wounds she carries are still fresh, and yet she is required to mend and heal the wounds of others; adolescents with broken families, health issues, and psychotic personas. Will she be able to carry the burdens of others while carrying her own? Lorato, a beautiful vulnerable, and scared young girl in her teens, carries a dark secret that's consuming her youth and threatening her existence. Will she be able to overcome the shadows lurking in the dark, or will she wither away in despair? The new shrink at Mogwana High School was a threat. Suzie was determined to get rid of Miss Harrison, no matter the cost. She was convinced that Miss Harrison was going to destroy all that she had worked hard for. What's more, her beloved Eddie seemed to be attracted to her. Yes, Miss Harrison was definitely a threat... one that needed to be eliminated.

SORRY BUT NOT SPHESIHLE MYENI

Born in a Royal family, with overbearing parents, 30-year-old Dr Linamandla Mbatha has lived her life deeply absorbed in the bubble of how a "princess" is expected to carry herself. Her obsession with leading an almost perfect life and feeding her parents' expectations lead to mental disorders, and she finds herself stuck in a mental institution for over a year when she faces rejection from her ideal prospective husband chosen by her parents. It takes a year of therapy sessions with a psychotherapist in the mental institution for her to come out of the bubble, and she embarks on a self-discovery journey where she's faced with high hurdles to jump and overcome.

I WISH WE NEVER MET ERIC BOSKATI

A chance meeting between two strangers develops into a friendship that quickly turns into a love affair. Setting the two up for a dangerous and agonizing journey toward redemption. For Lizzie it was a normal day up until a complete stranger entered her life. Who was this man? This good Samaritan so dedicated in helping her? He had all the good qualities a woman would look for in a man. A kind, caring and loving man. And a series of events convinced her this was the man she's been waiting for. The man, if given a chance will take away her pain and bring back the spark into her life. For Tembani the past was long gone and buried but he had forgotten one small thing. That little prayer he had made in desperation. That is, to meet in person with the mother of the five-year old boy he mistakenly took his life. And when his life converges with that of a stranger, bad things start to happen. Lizzie realized then that this man, this knight in shining armor was actually the source of all her pain. The reason for her disenchantment with life and reality. Finding herself at an emotional crossroad and not knowing whether to love or hate. Lizzie draws on her strength and embarks on a painful journey to the unknown, pinning all her hopes on the belief that love conquers all.

BUSINESS & LIFE SECRETS

DR. BOITUMELO PHETLA

Heaven on earth is realized and experienced in the presence of consciousness. It is never a passive state of existence! The consciousness of seeking purpose, seeking what makes sense to your core. And further, what will make it worthy for you to make efforts to break through barriers in order to realize it! When you eventually discover and commit to pursue your life's purpose, it just feels right and will yield results!

Yet, it is impossible to pursue purpose in the absence of courage. And we know that courage is a character that demands decisiveness and commitment to a choice. It is courage because you have to be willing to make tough & sometimes unpopular decisions that most people will rather avoid. You cannot experience heaven on earth in the absence of conscious and courageous pursuit to go after your God given purpose.

TEARS OF THE LAND

DR. FRANK MAKORO

This work is of a religious-political genre in rural setting depicting religious hypocrisy, abuse of power and subjugation of the marginalized by those who had the monopoly of power in the apartheid South Africa, and those who followed state's democratization system.

The effects of racial discrimination, social class elitism, corruption, violence and separate development today however continue to haunt the poor and have brought about uneven society

SERVING WITH INTERGRITY, COMMITMENT & EXCELLENCE

SHARON JEPHTHA

This book provides remarkable details and insights into a profession and organisation that is very closed to those outside of it. At times, Sharon reflects on the types of decisions one would have to make and what it practically takes to have integrity in an environment where as she indicates, far too many have faltered. This is a remarkable and rare book that will provide valuable insights to those with an interest in policing in South Africa.

Hopefully, it will also be read by serving police officers who will surely be inspired by Sharon's story to make a positive difference in people's lives both inside and outside of the SAPS."

THE RIVAL - THE ROYAL MISTRESS III TAKALANI M

“He is dead, yet I am still angry at him. He should have done things differently than putting me in this awkward position. Who gives people ultimatum to fall in love when they are not fated for that kind of life? Why should I fulfill his wishes? He has lived his life and I deserve to live mine too. I wish I didn’t need his money. It just wouldn’t hurt to have a few thousands or even millions of trust fund money in my name. Musanda Ratshali left his only princess, Rotshidzwa, a quest to find love before she receives her portion of his estate. That was a best way to tame the wild woman in her. With her deepest fear to fall in love with any man, will Rotshidzwa Ratshali take on the quest to find love? Will Adelaide give her a chance to fall in love in order to fulfil the ultimatum given to her?”

ADELAIDE - THE ROYAL MISTRESS II TAKALANI M

Adelaide, The Royal Mistress is the second instalment of The Royal Mistress sequel. It follows an interesting life of a princess, Rotshidzwa, who doesn’t believe in love but is given an ultimatum to get married to a prince in order to access her father’s estate. Adelaide, The Royal Mistress is the second book of The Royal Mistress sequel. The first book ended at a will-reading of the late Chief Ratshali. On his will, he gave his daughter an ultimatum to marry an arranged prince so that she could be tamed by love. The princess needed the money to fund her lifestyle, so she faked her marriage with the prince. After putting on a facade for a perfect marriage with a loving prince, she ended up failing in love with him. Love was foreign to her but she was willing to take on the challenge without acknowledging the prince’s relationship with a woman called Adelaide. The love triangle came with bitterness and betrayal, forcing Adelaide to prove to the lawyer that the marriage arrangements between the princess and the prince is a facade and cannot be considered as legit according to the conditions of the will.

“Often times the burden we carry as women derives from the erroneous decisions taken when choosing our lifetime partners. The connection we make with these men leads us to believing that we have found our “perfect-match” or soul-mate! Then without hesitation, we disregard contemplating or the urge to seek guidance through giving ourselves time to know what the “perfect-match” is all about nor who he really is. “Bear in mind that not every woman has put proper thought and deliberation prior to sealing God’s union and covenant which is meant to never be broken.

THE INEXPLICABLE LIFE OF SENZO MEYIWA

SOWETO MANDLANZI

Part of this title is already documented on a Netflix Documentary (Senzo – Murder of a Soccer Star). More deeper information is still documented in this Must Have Book.

The citizens of South Africa penned Senzo’s epigraph, saying: “Here lies a man who gave his life to his club and the country.”

While I was in Durban in the year 2014, going through bleakness; I received an exigent early-morning phone call:

“Senzo Meyiwa, the Orlando Pirates goalkeeper has been murdered at Kelly Khumalo’s house” ... What?

“I’m angry because my voice has been shut. I’m angry because I cried for help but help didn’t cry for me. I’m angry because he doesn’t care about what he did. I’m angry because I took the blame. I’m angry at my mother, but mostly I’m angry at the rules that deprive me the right to be angry at her.” My mother should’ve fought for me. She should’ve told my father and he would’ve stood up for me.

Traumatic past is the constituent to her subdued tears, emotional instability and unfulfilled needs of justice. Her new boss, driven by love, is determined to break down the walls around her and get through her closed heart. Their journey takes an eventful road as their childhood experiences keep resurfacing and challenging their mental well-being. Time may heal wounds but it can never bury scars. At what price does forgiveness come when it is your loved ones that have hurt you the most?

A BURNING DESIRE TAKALANI M

Have you ever desired something so much that everything else does not matter? A burning desire is all about two hearts, two life journeys, and burning desires that cannot be ignored. One desires an unending love, while the other desires to fulfill a promise made to their loved ones. When Lesedi Mashaba and Phuluso Tshifularo met, they were drawn to each other since the minute they laid their eyes on each other. Both of them are in their life journeys and pursuing a relationship was not part of the plan. But when they both least expected, Phuluso became the man Lesedi has always been looking for—respectful, loyal and a dedicated family man. In the midst of their perfect relationship, Phuluso is pulled back into a pit of darkness he cannot ignore. A pit he had been digging for years. Since the death of his twin sister, he desired to put justice in his hands when the law failed him. Will his love for Lesedi change his mind and his life around? Will he find solace in her arms? Or will he chose to jump into the pit of darkness where there is no return?

When an innocent girl from the small town of Qwaqwa meets mysterious business mogul Siya, her life takes a 180° turn. There's no such thing as a chance encounter - Fifi discovers this during her whirlwind journey of professional realisation, finding love and surviving loss. She is thrust into the eye of the storm and forced to question her views on life as she navigates her new normal - From the stock markets to underground secret agents and government conspiracies, Fifi must be fast footed if she wishes to survive in this cutthroat environment. Thank God Siya is with her every step of the way, her knight in shining armour. Siya and Fifi's Love story is the first of a three part romance and action thriller book series. The lines between right and wrong, black and white, good and bad are constantly probed. Will these two love birds survive it all? Can there be calm where two oceans meet?
