The subject of the task related to our work as a team and my work as an individual in the group.

I am in Team B. Our team has relied on a lot of work, and our team has a set of commitments and duties and working as a group as an individual.

Our team consists of Abdul Rahman, Khaled Zubaidi, Yazen Issawi, Munther Al-Zaghl, Saba Assaf, Rola, Emad Eddin, Rania

Each of us has his work like: -

I was responsible for searching and finding suitable ads and music for advertising. Five ads and ten types of music were tested to choose the music that suits each advertisement. In addition, each person was considered with their ads, their words and the music chosen for each one. Register ads where I have registered one of the ads that was selected accurately.

We needed a lot of work and collective help to complete a wonderful work together.

So we needed equipment such as a microphone, a microphone for the neck and a voice recorder to interview people. The registration was for everyone in the group to know about our transport in Jordan in all its ways and cover it appropriately and in all respects.

We also booked Studio to complete our work in terms of recording votes and recording ads that contain a large part of our project required of us.

We registered and began to enter the program that was in favor of monther and rula , which included what we are talking about, and to introduce others and thank them after each paragraph.

The story begins with the Jordanian citizen and the Jordanian street fully and in general (staff and students) in all classes and categories.

And my colleague Yazen, who talked about the issue of public buses and the transfer of the year and how to change the lanes and irregularities that they make wrong and harmful and the number of passengers in violation of traffic laws and things that are not useful, such as smoking in vehicles with solutions.

And then with my colleague Rania, who spoke of her lack of a fast public transport bus that takes one lane and the positives and negatives that are on the Jordanian society.

Then I, who talked about my lack of public buses and their problems with the traffic crisis and the express bus, and the impact of the development of each of them on the one hand traffic crises.

Then I moved to another topic with my colleague Khalid, who talked about taxis and newly found applications such as the application of Ober and Karim and the pros and cons that create behind them.

Then I also talked with my colleagues sab,a about the preference for smart application (Ober and Karim) for cars in terms of money and so on.

And then with my colleague Emad Eddin, who talked about the impact of regulation taxi cars and modern applications (Ober and Karim) and their impact on the traffic crisis.

And the conclusion with my colleague Abdul Rahman, who summed up what we talked about in full and cover in full in English and to meet with someone outside Jordan and a specialist in communications in the foreign country.

The conclusion was superb with the group and the work we did.
