

The Ministry Trust Guide: How to Start, Structure, and Shield Your Legacy

Welcome to Don Kilam International! 🍷

If you are looking for real autonomy without getting tangled in red tape, you are in the right place. Most people are operating their lives under a "Caesar" system that drains their wealth, restricts their speech, and leaves their family legacy vulnerable to garnishments, lawsuits, and excessive taxation. It is time to step out of the public and into the private.

Every household is already a ministry. When you teach your children values, care for your elderly, and assemble with your community to discuss the divine, you are exercising your First Amendment rights. Today, we are laying out a clear path to build a lawful ministry from the ground up, using the 508(c)(1)(a) Ministry Trust and the power of unincorporated associations to protect your mission and your assets.

THE LEGAL BEDROCK: AMENDMENT 1 AND THE 508(c)(1)(a)

Most people have heard of a 501(c)(3) non-profit. What they don't tell you is that a 501(c)(3) is a "government-approved" status. When you apply for it, you are asking for permission. In exchange for tax-exempt status, you agree to a "muzzle": you cannot speak freely on politics or certain social issues without risking your status.

The 508(c)(1)(a) is different. Under 26 U.S. Code § 508, churches, their integrated auxiliaries, and conventions or associations of churches are mandatory exceptions. They are tax-exempt by right, not by application.

The Benefits of a 508(c)(1)(a) Trust:

- No Filing Required: You do not "apply" for tax-exempt status; you already have it.

- Total Free Speech: Your ministry can speak on any topic without IRS intervention.
- Automatic Tax Exemption: It is a non-taxable entity that does not file tax returns.
- Asset Protection: It shields property from bankruptcy, seizure, and forfeiture.

STEP 1: BECOME ORDAINED AND ESTABLISH YOUR STATUS

The Supreme Court has upheld that anyone can become an ordained minister. You do not need to attend a four-year seminary to lead your family and community spiritually. You can become ordained for free and quickly through organizations like the Universal Life Church.

Once you are ordained, you are a member of the clergy. This is a change in status. You should maintain:

1. Clergy Credentials: Keep your ordination certificate on file.
2. Sacramental Logs: Keep records of marriages, baptisms, and house blessings.
3. Bylaws: Draft a constitution or bylaws that define your ministry's purpose, the roles of trustees, and the rules of membership.

Identity and the Baptismal Certificate Did you know a baptismal certificate can be used as a legal identity document? In many cases, a properly executed baptismal record or a birth affidavit can serve as proof of identity for passport applications. This distinguishes your religious status from your state-created persona. When you understand how to use these documents, you begin to see how the elite have managed their identities for centuries.

STEP 2: THE ASSET PROTECTION STACK

To truly shield your legacy, you must learn how to become a trustee rather than an owner. As Nelson Rockefeller famously said: "Own nothing, control everything."

The Strategy:

1. Operating Companies: Run your business through an LLC.
2. Holding Company: Place those LLCs under a manager-managed Holding LLC formed in a strong charging-order protection state (like Wyoming or Nevada).
3. The 508(c)(1)(a) Trust: Set your Ministry Trust as the beneficial owner of the Holding LLC.

By doing this, you are no longer the "owner" of the assets. The Trust owns them for the benefit of the ministry. If someone tries to sue you personally, they find that you own nothing. Your assets are safely tucked away in a tax-exempt, private entity. This is where the Secured Transactions Act and UCC filings come into play to further document the movement of assets from the public into the private trust.

STEP 3: IRS COMPLIANCE AND THE "AMISH" TRAVEL METHOD

You can live a life of integrity and follow the law without being a slave to the tax system. There are specific IRS forms designed for those with conscientious religious objections to the social security and self-employment tax systems.

Form 4361: Application for Exemption From Self-Employment Tax This is for ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners.

- Where to Mail: Department of the Treasury, Internal Revenue Service Center, Philadelphia, PA 19255-0733.
- The Goal: You are stating that you are conscientiously opposed to the acceptance of public insurance (Social Security) based on your religious beliefs.

Form 4029: Exemption for Members of Recognized Religious Groups This is often used by groups like the Amish. It allows for an exemption from Social Security and Medicare taxes if you are a member of a religious group that has been in existence since before December 31, 1950, and provides for its own members.

- The Secret: By documenting your lineage or association with older religious bodies and filing Form 4029, you can establish a status that the government recognizes as "exempt." This is how some people travel and operate without traditional state IDs.

STEP 4: BANKING AND OPERATIONS

You don't need a lawyer or a $5,000 consultant to start a trust. You can create it yourself. Once you have your trust documents and bylaws, you will apply for an EIN (Employer Identification Number) from the IRS.

Pro Tip: When applying for the EIN, ensure you categorize the entity correctly as a "Church" or "Integrated Auxiliary" to ensure the 508(c)(1)(a) status is reflected in the IRS records.

With your EIN and your trust documents, you can open a bank account in the name of the ministry. This allows you to:

- Receive donations.
- Pay for ministry expenses (housing, travel, and tools for the mission).
- Get high-limit business credit cards that do not report to your personal credit.

STEP 5: PRIVATE MEMBERSHIP ASSOCIATIONS (PMA)

To keep your ministry truly private, you should operate as a Private Membership Association. A PMA is a business or organization that operates in the private sector, outside the jurisdiction of many public laws and regulations.

Key Elements of a PMA:

- Admission Rules: You decide who gets to join your ministry.
- Member Agreements: Every member signs a contract agreeing to settle disputes privately.
- Privacy: What happens in the PMA stays in the PMA.

This structure allows you to serve people, provide health advice, or conduct business without the "alphabet soup" agencies breathing down your neck. You are operating under the right of assembly and the right of contract.

WHY THIS MATTERS NOW

The world is changing. Inflation is eating your savings, and the legal landscape is becoming more restrictive. Learning how to become a trustee of your own life is the only way to ensure your children and grandchildren inherit what you have worked for.

Don Kilam has been teaching these methods since 2016. After losing everything in the 2008 crash, Don put his Masters in Accounting and MBA to work to find the loopholes that the wealthy use. He discovered that the "American Dream" is often a trap, but the Private Sector is where true freedom lives.

Immediate Steps to Take:

1. Ordination: Get your credentials today.
2. Trust Creation: Draft your 508(c)(1)(a) documents.
3. Education: Join the private community at Don Kilam International to get the step-by-step blueprints.

FINAL THOUGHTS ON STEWARDSHIP

A ministry trust isn't just about "not paying taxes." It is about stewardship. It is about taking the resources God has given you and ensuring they are used to help humanity rather than funding debt-based systems. When you move your home, your car, and your business into a 508(c)(1)(a), you are dedicating those assets to a higher purpose.

Stop asking for permission to be free. The law is already on your side. You just need the knowledge to apply it.
