Welcome to the Cumbria Youth Alliance May 2020 funding gazette -the focus is on funds that address the issues related to Covid-19 and many funders have switched their priorities to supporting this rather than taking general applications. The team here at Cumbria Youth Alliance are here to support you whether you are looking for Covid-19 response funds or just looking for funds for your organisation.

- ✓ We can carry out a funding search for you
- ✓ We can check your bids and help with applications
- ✓ We can be a referee for bids etc
- ✓ We can deliver fundraising training by our staff who are members of the Institute of Fundraising

This is busy time for us all and we are facing challenges that no risk assessment could have predicted and we are trying to deal with issues as they emerge. However we also need to plan ahead for the end of lock down whenever that occurs to plan how we are going to deliver our services when social distancing and restrictions maybe with us for some time to come. We are all wrestling with issues about future cashflow -future service delivery and possible challenges that we will face here in Cumbria,

We know we will face an increased demand for services at a time when financial resources are likely to be sparse. How will we deliver services in this new world observing different challenges? Will some of the new ways of working remotely stay with us -this may reduce costs for us all as we go forward? How much money will be around in the future if charitable trusts and foundations rely on the stock market and bank dividends?

- ✓ We are likely to see a rise in the numbers of service users who need mental health support
- ✓ We are likely to see a rise in demand for support for those unemployment both youth and adult
- ✓ We are already seeing a huge rise in food bank usage
- ✓ We are seeing families more isolated and disadvantaged than before
- ✓ Increased use of alcohol and drugs in the community

We will need new risk assessments and new policies and procedures that keep our staff safe and protect our service users for both remote working and social distancing and we need to be thinking about how this will all come together to inform strategy going forward.

We will produce another more mainstream funding gazette later in the month which highlights the mainstream funding opportunities that are out there for you.

In the meantime please contact us on 01900 603131 or email cath@cya.org.uk if you think we can help. Stay safe and keep up the wonderful work being done by staff and volunteers across the sectors here in Cumbria.

Cumbria Victims Charitable Trust

The Trustees of Cumbria Victims Charitable Trust have established the following guidelines to be used during consideration of possible payments from the Fund. They apply to assessments by the Trustees and also to decisions by others who have delegated authority to either advise on possible applications or allocate funds from grants made by CVCT to specific groups.

WHO WILL WE HELP?

- Victims who are in need, distress, hardship or sickness as a result of crime; and
- who are vulnerable; and
- who need help to cope or recover, or to avoid re-victimisation, or to replace essential items; and
- who have limited resources and there is no other funding available to them.

PRIORITIES

- To promote the safety of the victim;
- To relieve urgent need or distress;
- To provide essential basic requirements, relating to washing, cooking, sleeping and clothing.

How to do the application

The application must be supported by an independent case worker or professional involved with the case. The role of the sponsor is to ensure the application contains all relevant information and meets the CVCT guidelines, and to help the applicant to prioritise need.

- Proof of a conviction is not essential, nor is reporting the crime to the police. In the absence of such proof, a reasonable belief by the sponsor that the applicant is the victim of a crime is acceptable.
- There should be a close connection, both causal and in time, between crime and application.
- CVCT, via CCF, will usually pay suppliers / contractors direct.
- Payments will not be made to or on behalf of third parties who are not direct victims.
- Prima facie the maximum grant is £500, but CVCT reserves the right to make any award it sees fit.
- CVCT Trustees have complete discretion and reserve the right to consider any factors they deem relevant.

Community Fund

As part of our response to COVID-19, we are getting in touch to see if we can help. We are contacting you because we think you may be well placed to support your community through the current crisis. You should have already heard from us that we'll be very flexible regarding your existing Reaching Communities / Partnerships grant. We are getting in touch to explore whether you need additional funding to be able to support your community. This can be for different activities to those covered by your existing grant. We want to make sure that you have the resources you need to support your community when you are working to support communities most impacted by the crisis.

As part of our COVID-19 response we are only providing support to:

- Organisations supporting people who are at high risk from COVID-19
- Organisations supporting communities most likely to face increased demand and challenges as a direct result of measures to prevent the result of COVID-19,
- Organisations with high potential to support communities with the direct and indirect impact of COVID-19

We will also consider how we can support such organisations to respond to any acute financial difficulties they might face as a result of the crisis. We will support organisations who fit with these priorities with up to 6 months of funding of between £10,000 to £100,000 for activities specifically geared to supporting communities through this crisis. In exceptional circumstances, we will support organisations for funding that exceeds this.

If you do want funding for this then we will need you to provide us with additional information so that we better understand your financial position, this can be found at our Reaching Communities website. <https://www.tnlcommunityfund.org.uk/funding/programmes/reaching-communities-england> .

We want to support as many organisations as possible with the funding we have available.

Please do get in touch if you would like to have a conversation about this funding.

With regard to your enquiry about annual monitoring, we are currently trying to be flexible in our approach to requesting this information as we understand organisations are under considerable strain during this time. I am happy to put a delay on this until September if you feel this will be beneficial for you? I can send the information we require via email within the next week for you to read over.

Kind regards, Amelia Nicholson

Tesco Bags of Help COVID-19 Communities Fund

<https://tescobagsofhelp.org.uk/grant-schemes/tesco-cv-fund/>

Tesco Bags of Help is responding to the current Coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis by setting up a new short-term fund to support local communities. Due to the need to respond quickly to the emergency we have created a streamlined application process and payment process to make it easier to get funds distributed quickly.

Typically, the fund will prioritise organisations;

- whose need for services has been disrupted – for example a food bank whose stocks are running low and need an immediate donation to enable the food bank to restock.
- require to put in place new services – for example charities setting up a new home service for the elderly who usually attend a monthly lunch club or a charity needing to set up a telephone service to support beneficiaries.
- Increased demand – a holiday hunger club needs more resources due to schools closing, or a children’s centre needs an additional temporary staff member.
- Applications will be welcomed from a wide range of organisations including: voluntary/community organisations, registered charities, schools, health bodies, Parish/Town councils, social enterprises, Community Interest Companies, community councils, local authorities and social housing organisations. Other not-for-profit organisations might also be eligible.
- Businesses and ‘for profit’ organisations are not eligible.
- Typically we would welcome applications from organisations such as ;
- Women’s refuges
- Food banks
- Hospices
 - Homeless charities
 - Charities supporting the elderly
 - Charities supporting children’s activities

However, this list is not exhaustive and other organisational types will be funded. This is a rolling programme, where community groups or charities can apply for funding at any time during the next few months; we expect to be making weekly awards to eligible groups across the UK.

Youth Music Emergency Fund

<https://network.youthmusic.org.uk/youth-music-emergency-fund>

Youth Music has announced a new Emergency Fund to offer additional support to music-making organisations affected by coronavirus. We are grateful to our supporters for making the Emergency Fund possible: players of People's Postcode Lottery, PayPal, and the National Lottery via Arts Council England.

About this fund

This fund has been designed as an emergency response to support music-making organisations affected by coronavirus (COVID-19). We are grateful to our supporters for making this emergency fund possible: players of People's Postcode Lottery, PayPal, and the National Lottery via Arts Council England.

Through this fund we'll aim to:

- Prioritise the people and organisations in the most immediate need
- Make quick decisions and payments.

This fund is designed to support organisations facing the following challenges:

1. Cashflow – organisations are seeing threats to their income, in particular from charged-for services and from contracts. This has significant implications for honouring employment and freelance contracts and core ongoing costs. At the time of writing there is still a lack of clarity about eligibility of government support measures and when any funding might be released.
2. Maintaining services – there are/will be challenges in continuing to deliver core services through staff or volunteer absence, social distancing measures, increased childcare responsibilities, venues being closed etc.
3. Adapting services – delivering services in new ways, which can be more expensive, have high set-up costs (e.g. IT infrastructure, buying tech or instruments for tutors and young people) or require new policies or expertise.
4. Children and young people – the impact of the situation on children and young people's mental and physical health; the negative implications for some vulnerable children of being out of school; keeping in contact now that the normal music sessions have ceased; engaging young people in new forms of learning; reaching children beyond digital access (e.g. disabled young people; those who don't have devices or an internet connection).

The Barclays Foundation

<https://home.barclays/news/press-releases/2020/04/barclays-launches-100-million-covid-19-community-aid-package/>

Barclays has set up a foundation with £100m. It will be giving out half of the fund in the form of direct funding for charities, while the other half is a commitment to match employees' donations, including senior figures in the corporate pledging a third of their salary. Today the company is announcing the establishment of The Barclays Foundation, initially to provide a COVID-19 Community Aid Package of £100 million to charities working to support vulnerable people impacted by COVID-19, and to alleviate the associated social and economic hardship caused by the crisis. The package is made up of two components. First, a corporate contribution of £50 million, which will be donated to, and deployed via, a variety of charities working to support vulnerable people impacted by COVID-19, and in alleviating the associated social and economic hardship caused by the crisis. The money will be disbursed principally in the UK, but also in Barclays' international markets, including the USA and India. Second, is a £50 million commitment by Barclays to match personal donations made by our employees to charities of their choice, local to them, and which are working to support communities impacted by the COVID-19 crisis.

In total this initiative represents a corporate commitment overall of £100 million by Barclays, and potentially translates to up to £150 million of aid provided to hard hit communities through the additional individual donations of Barclays' employees.

Big Society Capital

<https://bigsocietycapital.com/latest/100-million-response-announced-to-help-social-sector-organisations-through-the-coronavirus-crisis/>

Charities and, social enterprises in disadvantaged areas facing financial hardship and disruption to their trading due to the coronavirus will be able to apply for emergency funding from a £100 million programme of loans and investment. An ambitious £100 million programme of loans and investment is announced today to help get much-needed emergency funding to social enterprises, charities and small businesses in disadvantaged areas affected by the coronavirus pandemic. The measures complement the coronavirus grants programme for social sector organisations announced today by the Government.

These organisations are in the frontline of responding to the needs of the most vulnerable and deprived sectors of our community, and many are facing significant financial difficulties. Many are also not able to access other sources of government funding which have been made available in response to the crisis.

The new measures, announced today by leading social investors, will create routes for charities, social enterprises and some small businesses facing cash-flow problems and disruption to their trading to obtain urgent finance which they otherwise couldn't access. Within weeks, affected organisations will be able to apply for emergency loans and investment without paying any fees or interest for 12 months.

Since much more than £100 million will be required to help the social sector through the crisis, the Impact Investing Institute, in coordination with Big Society Capital, a leading social impact investor, and Social Investment Business, one of the largest social investors in the UK, is working to source additional investment from banks and other investors.

The new measures include:

- A new Resilience and Recovery Loan Fund, managed by Social Investment Business (SIB), to enable social lenders to provide emergency loans to affected social enterprises and charities without requiring personal guarantees and charging no fees or interest for 12 months. Big Society Capital will provide an initial investment of £25 million, with loans backed by the Government's existing Coronavirus Business Interruption Loan Scheme (CBILS) and issued through SIB working initially with Charity Bank, Social and Sustainable Capital and Big Issue Invest. Co-investment from social investors is being sought to supplement Big Society Capital's initial investment.
- Smaller, emergency loans will also be made available on the same no fee, no interest for 12 months basis to small businesses and social enterprises in more deprived areas, by ensuring the Community Investment Enterprise Facility (CIEF), administered by Social Investment Scotland, can effectively access the CBIL Scheme. £29 million of Big Society Capital's and other investors' capital will be invested initially, while additional institutional investors are being approached to co-invest. The loans will be delivered through BCRS Business Loans Limited, Business Enterprise Fund, Finance for Enterprise and First Enterprise.
- Up to a further £50 million which Big Society Capital will reprioritise and repurpose over coming months to address emerging funding needs among social enterprises and charities, either through the Resilience and Recovery Loan Fund or alternative funding vehicles as appropriate.

The initial funds will come through Big Society Capital repurposing existing investments and rescheduling planned commitments for future years. The aim is to significantly grow the response with support from other investors.

The initiative has been enabled by the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) accelerating the release of previously committed dormant bank accounts.

Cumbria Community Foundation

Communities are pulling together to support vulnerable people during the coronavirus pandemic thanks to funding from the Cumbria COVID-19 Response Fund.

This week, a further £142,293 was awarded from the Fund to projects helping families on low incomes, homeless people, isolated older people and many more get through the coronavirus crisis. Barrow is one of the most deprived areas in the county, one in three children are living in poverty. To help meet the additional needs and concerns of local people, the community has come together to create a coordinated community response to the coronavirus outbreak.

The Barrow Borough Community Resilience Forum works closely with the Local Resilience Forum and includes representatives from six charities: The Well, Love Barrow Families, Women's Community Matters, Drop Zone Youth Project, Age UK Barrow and self-harm awareness charity SAFA. It received £74,580 to ensure that all parts of the borough have access to support, advice, and practical help. In addition, organisations with expertise in key areas such as older people, mental health, families and addiction issues will be called on to work together to support those most at risk.

Rebecca Robson, Senior Officer at Women's Community Matters, which has joined Love Barrow Families in delivering meals and activities to the families they work with, said: "I would like to say a very big thank you to everyone who has donated to Cumbria COVID-19 Response Fund. We now have the privilege of being able to share the generosity of all those who donated with those who need it most. I have seen and heard the comments from some of the families who will benefit, and I can assure you that it means more than we can ever measure." Read the full story here.
