

Wild Neighbors: The New Face of Urban Living A

1. (iii) The historical view of cities as human-only spaces.
2. (ii) Cities provide a consistent refuge from the effects of human expansion
3. Adapted to city life by changing their behavior// adapted their behaviors to survive in urban environments.
4. (i) it leads to a breakdown of the natural distance between species
5. Not feeding wild animals // By strictly prohibiting the feeding of wild animals// respecting boundaries
6. Navigate cities without crossing dangerous highways
7. benefits of having animals in cities// positives// advantages
8. (iv)They advocate for an integrated approach to modern city living

Wild Neighbors: The New Face of Urban Living B

1. (I) The historical view of cities as human-only spaces.
2. (IV) Cities provide a consistent refuge from the effects of human expansion
3. Adapted to city life by changing their behavior// adapted their behaviors to survive in urban environments.
4. (III) it leads to a breakdown of the natural distance between species
5. Not feeding wild animals // By strictly prohibiting the feeding of wild animals// respecting boundaries
6. Navigate cities without crossing dangerous highways
7. benefits of having animals in cities// positives// advantages
8. (I)They advocate for an integrated approach to modern city living