We Voted, Now What? How the President Is Elected

The process for establishing the electoral count vote has been refined under the bipartisan Electoral Count Act. We will have less chance of running into problems this year vs 2020. However, we are not guaranteed there will be no efforts to influence the electoral vote count.

Here is a brief article describing the electoral count process.

Here are the new filings from Jack Smith, which Judge Chutkan released. U.S. vs Donald J. Trump.

These are arguments in response to the Supreme Court immunity decision this summer.

Oregon Legislature

Prior to the official legislative session to start in January, the Oregon legislature has "Legislative Days". In preparation for the January session, and to help them determine bills they will introduce, Committees hold hearings to gather information related to their subjects. You can find out what hearings are being held - and watch them [now or later] by checking the calendar on the main OL page. To see what is happening on another day, click the small calendar icon and choose another date.
