REDUCING GENDER GAP IN TECHNOLOGY THROUGH SKILLING

Doc Nyarai

Technology Access for women

- Access to technology, control of it, and the ability to create and shape it, is a fundamental issue of women's human rights.

- More women and girls playing leadership roles in designing and shaping technology, especially to advance women's rights

- The potential for technology skilling that improves the lives of women and girls across the globe is too large an opportunity to miss.

- Women resourcefulness to solve the societal challenges can unlock a colossal wave of human potential and freedom for future generations.

Digital Skills in the 4IR

- Digital skills are not optional in today's digitalised world

- The future of women at work and the transitions in the age of automation women will need to
  - be skilled,
  - be mobile, and
  - be technologically oriented to adapt to the new world of work
