WIGAN.

WIGAN is an ancient parliamentary, municipal and county borough, union and market town, 38 miles south from Lancaster, 16 south from Preston, 12 north from Warrington, 18 north-west from Manchester, 19 north-east from Liverpool, 3½ west by south from Bolton, 20½ south-west from Rochdale, 1½ west from Bury, 19½ from London by railway and 199 by road, and is the head of a county court district and petty sessional division, township and parish; the borough is in the Ince division of the county, hundreds of West Derby and Salford, rural deanery of Wigan, and archdeaconry and diocese of Liverpool. The stations of the London and North Western railway and the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway are in Wallgate, the former being carried over the street on a cast-iron bridge supported by fluted columns and the latter passing under the street in a deep cutting. The Wigan Junction railway, which runs through Glazebrook to Manchester, has a goods station in Darlington street east and a new terminal station in Station road, the line being worked by the Great Central Railway Company.

The town is seated on the banks of the Douglas, a river which rises near Rivington Pike and pursues a southerly course to Wigan, where it is spanned by several bridges and was made navigable from thence to the river Ribble under the power of an Act obtained in 1719; the older portion of the town occupies the north bank, the later portion the south. The Douglas Navigation, passing the town on the south, was bought by the Leeds and Liverpool Canal Company, who made an artificial course and the river has since been disused.

The borough returned members to Parliament in the time of Edward I. but not again until the twenty-seventh year of the reign of Elizabeth; it formerly returned two members, but by the "Redistribution of Seats Act, 1885," the representation was reduced to one.

Wigan was first incorporated by Henry III. in 1245, subsequently receiving charters from Edward II., Henry IV., Queen Elizabeth, Charles II., James II. and William IV.

Under the Municipal Corporations Act of 1835 (5 and 6 Wm.
 IV. c. 70), Wigan was divided into five wards, but by an Order in Council dated May, 1890, it was re-divided into ten wards. In November, 1903, the Corporation presented a memorial to the Local Government Board, under Sec. 54 of the "Local Government Act, 1888," for an alteration of the borough boundaries, and on the 31st April, 1904, the Local Government Board informed the Corporation that they had decided to grant an Order to extend the borough boundaries so as to include the Urban District of Pemberton. On May 6th, 1904, the Local Government Board's Provisional Orders (No.

13) Confirmation Bill was read a first time in the House of Commons. After the Confirming Bill has received Royal Assent, the Order will come into force on the 9th November, 1904.

The new Council will then consist of 14 aldermen and 42 councillors.

The borough has a court of quarter and petty sessions and a police force.

Under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1888," the town is declared a "county borough" for certain purposes of the Act.

The town is lighted with gas from works in Darlington street; the electric lighting and electric tramway works were opened in 1901. The waterworks, at Arley, have reservoirs holding 125,000,000 gallons, those at Werthington have a capacity of 105,000,000 gallons, and the Adlington reservoirs of 10,000,000 gallons; all the works belong to the Corporation.

The parish church of All Saints is an edifice of stone in the Late Perpendicular style, restored about 1630 and again in 1847, and consisting of chancel with aisles and two chapels to the Gerard and Lindsay families, nave, aisles, south porch and a tower at the east end of the north aisle containing 8 bells: in the Lindsay chapel are mural monuments to Alexander, 6th earl of Balcarres and 23rd earl of Crawford, d. 27 March, 1825, and Elizabeth (Dalrymple), his wife, d. 10 August, 1816; and to Maria Margaret Frances, daughter of John, Lord Muncaster, and wife of James, 24th earl of Crawford and Balcarres, d. 16 November, 1850: in the Lindsay or Bradshaigh chapel is an altar tomb with recumbent effigies in stone to Sir William Bradshaigh kt. and Dame Mabel, his wife: in the corresponding chapel on the north side is a monument to Dr. George Hall, bishop of Chester 1662-8 and previously rector of Wigan, who resided here occasionally and was accidentally killed by falling on a knife while walking in his garden at Wigan: there is also a brass to the Rev. Albert Harry Hodd, curate of All Saints (1871): the stained window at the east end of the Lindsay or Bradshaigh chapel was presented by Lady Marian Lindsay and Lady Jane Evelyn Lindsay in memory of their father, Alexander William, 25th earl of Crawford and 8th of Balcarres, who died 13th Dec. 1880. Dr. John Wilkins, bishop of Chester 1698-72, who succeeded Bishop Hall, was also rector here, and three subsequent rectors held the benefice in commendam with the same see. In 1901 the organ was rebuilt at a cost of £1,150, when two new stops were presented at a cost of £110. The church underwent further restoration subsequent to 1873, at a cost of £1,200, and now affords 950 sittings. The register dates from the year 1580. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £1,500, with residence, in the gift of the Earl of Bradford, and held since 1896 by the Rev. Roland George Mathew M.A. of Wadham College, Oxford, rural dean of Wigan and surrogate.

The following are ecclesiastical parishes:—

St. Andrew's was formed March 28, 1871, out of Wigan All Saints: the church, erected from plans by F. W. Hunt esq. of London, at a cost of £5,531, and consecrated in 1882, is a building of brick in a modified Early English style, consisting of chancel with richly carved oak stall work, reredos with paintings etc. divided from the nave by a high screen, nave, aisles, vestries and a turret at the north-west angle of the nave, containing one bell: there are 600 sittings. The register dates from the year 1870. The living is a vicarage, yearly value £224, with residence, in the gift of the rector of Wigan, and held since 1878 by the Rev. William Arthur Wickham.

St. Catherine's parish was formed August, 1843, out of All Saints: the church, on an elevated position at the top of Birkett Bank, near the township of Ince, and erected in 1841, is an edifice of stone, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, north and south porches and a western tower with a lofty spire and pinnacles, containing one bell: a brass eagle-lectern was given in 1893 by Mr. A. E. Barlow, of Wigan, in memory of his brother: the church has been restored since 1873, at a cost of £1,730, and affords 1,400 sittings, 400 being free. The register dates from the year 1841. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £362, with residence, in the gift of the rector of Wigan, and held since 1903 by the Rev. Edmund Charles Poulter, who is also surrogate.

St. George's was formed August 1, 1843, out of All Saints: the church, erected in 1781, is a plain edifice of brick, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles and an embattled western tower with pinnacles, containing one bell: the stained east window was presented by Mrs. Burland, of Standishgate, in memory of her mother, who died in 1867: there are 670 sittings, 20 being free. The register dates from about the year 1817. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £400, including glebe, vicarage and mines, in the gift of the rector of Wigan, and held since 1863 by the Rev. Philip Frost John Bird Hains, of St. Aidans and Trinity College, Dublin, and surrogate.

St. James's parish was formed May 1, 1863, out of Pemberton and St. George's and St. Thomas's, Wigan: the church, in Poolstock, is a building of stone in the Transition style, erected in 1866 at the sole cost of Nathaniel Eckersley esq. and consists of chancel, nave, transepts, aisles, south porch and a western tower with pinnacles containing 8 bells: the chancel was decorated and a stone reredos erected in 1877 at a cost of £2,000: there are 700 sittings. The register dates from the year 1866. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £400, with residence, in the gift of J. C. Eckersley esq. and held since 1902 by the Rev. Francis Sarseson M.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge, who resides at Worsley Mesnes, Pemberton.

The parish of St. Michael and All Angels was formed April 5, 1881, out of All Saints: the church, erected in 1878, at a cost of £11,453, is a stone building in the Decorated style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles and a stone turret over the chancel arch containing 2 bells: the stained east window was presented by the late Richard Charles Snape esq.: there are 600 sittings. The register dates from the year 1878. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £360, in the gift of the rector of Wigan, and held since 1896 by the Rev. Hugh Francis Lloyd M.A. of Keble College, Oxford.

St. Thomas' parish was formed February 24, 1852, out of All Saints: the church, in Caroline street, Wallgate, is a stone building in the Gothic style, and consists of nave, aisles, south porch and a tower at the south-east angle with spire and containing one bell: the north aisle, tower and spire were added in the year 1851, at the cost of H. L. Gaskell esq.: there is a tablet in memory of the late vicar, the Rev. James Cronshaw and one in memory of the late John Tickle: the church affords 834 sittings, of which 360 are free. The register dates from the year 1851. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £361, in the gift of the rector of Wigan, and held since 1890 by the Rev. Richard Tebbs, of St. Aidans, and surrogate.

Wigan is in the Catholic diocese of Liverpool.

There are five Catholic churches: St. John's, Standishgate, erected in 1819; St. Joseph's, Caroline street, 1872; St. Mary's, Standishgate, 1818; St. Patrick's, Scholes, 1880 and the church of the Sacred Heart, Stratford street, Springfields, 1904: there are also Baptist, Catholic Apostolic, Christian Brethren, Congregationalist, Independent Methodist, Free Methodist, New Jerusalem Church, English and Welsh Presbyterian, Primitive Methodist and Wesleyan chapels. There is a house of the Jesuit order, and in Standishgate is the convent of Notre Dame, built in 1854, and rebuilt in 1894, and comprising a high school for girls and a college for pupil teachers.

St. Paul's Congregational Church, erected in 1902 on the site of the old one, founded in 1785; it is a building of stone in the Early English Gothic style, erected at a cost of £5,750 from designs by Mr. Fred W. Dixon, architect, of Manchester, and will seat 860 persons; it has a spire 85 feet high.

The cemetery at Ince, consisting of 18 acres, was formed in 1856, at a cost of £13,320; it has three mortuary chapels and is under the control of a burial board of nine members.

The Public Hall, formerly the Mechanics' Institute, and erected in 1852, is now the property of Messrs. Roger and Rennick, and has been converted into publishing offices for the "Wigan Examiner."

The Borough Courts, erected in King street in 1866, at the cost of about £20,000, form a handsome structure of brick, with stone facings, in the Italian style, from designs by Mr. Thomas Cook, architect, of Liverpool, and contain rooms for the borough magistrates and the corporation offices, including a council chamber, elaborately decorated with heraldic emblems, and containing three windows emblazoned with the arms of the local gentry, quarter sessions court, police court, offices and cells, and a fire engine station.

The County Police Station and Sessions Room, in Crawford street, is a building of red brick, erected in 1888, and has residence and offices for the superintendent and clerk.

The County Courts and Inland Revenue Offices adjoining the County Police Station are also of red brick, and were opened in 1901.

The Volunteer Drill Hall, Powell street, the foundation stone of which was laid in July, 1884, by the Earl of Crawford, is a large building of red brick and stone in the revived Queen Anne style, and has been erected at a cost of about £3,000. The hall, opened in December, 1884, has an interior span of 75 feet, and a floor specially designed for balls, concerts and public meetings; it affords standing room for 5,000 persons; attached are armouries, magazines, offices and private rooms and the sergeant-major's house. The A, B, O, D and E Companies of the 1st Volunteer Battalion Manchester Regiment drill in the hall; in 1899 assembly rooms and an equipment room were added.

The Free Public Library, Rodney street, opened May 6th, 1878, together with the land upon which it is erected, was the gift of Thomas Taylor esq. and cost upwards of £12,000. The building is a structure of brick with stone facings, in a modern Gothic style, from the designs of Alfred Waterhouse esq. R.A. of Yattendon, Berks, and comprises lending and reference libraries, reading, news and librarian's rooms. Joseph Taylor Winnard esq. who formerly practised as a surgeon at Wigan in the year 1873, bequeathed to the mayor for the time being all the residue of the moneys arising from the sale and conversion of his effects, eventually amounting to £12,000, to be expended in the purchase of books for the library, which in 1904 contained 43,000 volumes for reference and a lending library of 15,000 volumes. The Powell Branch Boys' Library and Reading Room, Station road, presented by Sir F. S. Powell bart. M.P. was opened May, 1895, and contains 1,290 volumes.

The Baths, in Millgate, are the property of the corporation and were erected in 1882, at a cost, including land, of about £9,000; they are of red brick with stone dressings, from designs by Mr. George Heaton, architect, of this town, and comprise two swimming baths for gentlemen and one for ladies, besides twenty-two private baths, three vapour and three slipper baths.

Wigan and its townships are celebrated for their immense coal formations, which extend for miles in every direction, many parts abounding with cannel in addition to common coal and supplying from the numerous pits large quantities of this mineral, and the trade of Wigan is much facilitated by the railways and canals. There are extensive oil and grease works; cotton spinning is also largely carried on and gives employment to a great portion of the population, several of the mills here being among the largest in the kingdom; ginghams and other cotton goods are made, and there are iron forges, iron and brass foundries, railway waggons, bolt, screw and nail works.

There are also extensive breweries here, four banks, a savings bank, a theatre and two music halls, the Grand Hippodrome in King street, opened in 1804, and holding 2,500, and the Empire in Market place with seats for over 1,000 persons.

The market days are Tuesday and Friday, but the chief business is done on the latter day. Fairs are held the day before Holy Thursday (for cattle), Holy Thursday (horses), last Wednesday in June (at Scholes, cattle and horses); cattle fair third Wednesday in October; Thursday following, horse fair.

The Market Hall, opened May 21st, 1877, is a structure of red brick with stone facings, erected at a cost of £16,000, from the designs of the late Mr. J. L. Hunter, borough engineer, and stands in the centre of an open space, with good approaches.

The Fish Market is a separate building and consists of a single avenue with stalls on either side.

The Royal Albert Edward Infirmary and Dispensary, facing Wigan lane, opened by His Majesty the King, then Prince of Wales, 4th June, 1873, is an edifice of brick with Yorkshire stone dressings, from designs by Thomas Worthington esq. architect, of Manchester, built on the pavilion plan and is well arranged and amply furnished. A wing was added in 1885, from designs by Messrs. Worthington and Elgood, at the sole expense of Miss Gidlow, in memory of her sister. A new wing for children's wards was added in 1890 at the expense of J. H. Johnson esq. of Southport. In 1893 a new mortuary, with post-mortem room and pathological museum, was erected, and in 1894-5 a dining room for nurses was provided, and the Gidlow wing extended for the reception of 10 additional beds, at a total cost of £6,000. In 1900 an isolation block was built, at a cost of £5,000, and in 1904 the Finsen Light and X Rays apparatus was provided. The original building cost £19,500, the Gidlow wing £6,000, and the children's wing £2,500, and there are now 143 beds; the number of in-patients in 1904 was 1,683 and out-patients 8,399.

The poor of the parish have £185 yearly in bread and clothing from James Brown's charity; the poor of the township £370 yearly in bread and clothing from several charities; and there is in addition £140 for apprenticing.

Mesnes Park, opened August 5th, 1878, by N. Eckersley esq. of Wigan, on the north side of the town, covers an area of about 27 acres and the lower part is laid out as an Italian garden, in the centre of the park there are two semi-circular terraces, about 10 feet high; on the summit is a pavilion and at the foot of the terrace a fountain with waterfall, rock-work &c.; the lake is well stocked with swans and waterfowl, and from the highest point of the park a splendid view of the surrounding country is obtained.

In the civil war Wigan took the king's side and was often the head quarters of James Earl of Derby K.G. one of the devotee adherents of King Charles I. In 1651 this nobleman arrived from the Isle of Man to sustain the cause of Charles II. but was encountered and defeated by Colonel Lilburne in the battle of Wigan Lane, August 25, 1651, and being taken prisoner after the battle of Worcester, September 3 in that year, was beheaded at Bolton on the 15th October following. In Wigan Lane fell Sir Thomas Tyldesley kt. a faithful follower of the king and the ablest of the Royalist leaders in this county, who was shot while scrambling through a hedge; a monumental pillar with inscription, at the north end of the town, near the spot on which he fell,

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT FOR THE COUNTY BOROUGH.

Sir Francis Sharp Powell bart. M.A., D.L., J.P. Horton Old hall, Bradford, Yorks; & 1 Cambridge square, Hyde park W & Carlton, St. Stephen's, Oxford & Cambridge & Athenæum clubs, London S W was erected in 1679 by Alexander Rigby esq. then high sheriff of Lancashire, and restored in 1886.

Wigan gives the title of baron to the Lindsay family, Earls of Crawford; and the Earl of Crawford is the owner of very large estates in the neighbourhood, including many collieries. Westwood House, the property of Humphrey Jeffrey Walmesley esq. J.P. is a handsome mansion, standing in a well-wooded park; a beautiful Catholic chapel in the Gothic style, from a design by Pugin, and dedicated to the Holy Name of Jesus, has been built adjoining the house, at the expense of Mr. Walmesley. The Manor House in Bishopgate, an ancient structure, is interesting as the temporary home, in 1745, of Charles Edward Stuart, the young Pretender, who stayed here two days, under the protection of the wife of an officer, the owner of the mansion, who was at a neighbouring town, in the service of the King.

The Corporation are lords of the manor. The township contains 2,188 acres, of which 47 are water; rateable value, April 1st, 1904, £242,117; the population of the parish, which forms the municipal and parliamentary borough, in 1881 was 48,192, in 1891, 65,013 & in 1901, 60,764, including 9 officers and 290 inmates in the workhouse and 141 inmates in the Royal Albert Edward Infirmary.

The population of the municipal wards in 1901 was:—All Saints', 3,814; Lindsay, 4,782; Poolstock, 5,037; St. Andrew, 9,280; St. Catharine, 6,684; St. George, 4,932; St. Patrick, 9,183; St. Thomas, 4,845; Swinley, 7,258; Victoria, 5,029.

The population of the ecclesiastical parishes in 1901 was:—All Saints' (parish church), 7,063; St. Andrew, 2,399; St. Catharine, 15,737; St. George, 13,681; St. James, 7,417; St. Michael and All Angels, 7,522; St. Thomas, 9,277.

The number of electors on the parliamentary register in 1904 was 8,575.

Parish Clerks:—

All Saints, Walter John True, 10 Richmond street
St. James', Poolstock, Alfred Hammond, 80 Poolstock
St. Michael & All Angels, Joseph Shuttleworth, Duke street
St. Thomas, William Simpson, School house, Caroline street

PEMBERTON (with New Town, Marsh Green, Smithy Brook, part of Goose Green and Lamberhead Green, the greater part of the township of Orrell, Kitt Green and Gathurst) comprises the extensive ecclesiastical parish of Pemberton, formed April 2, 1838, from Wigan. Pemberton has a station on the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway, 2½ miles west from Wigan and 198 from London. The parish adopted the "Local Government Act, 1858," August 20, 1872, and under the "Local Government Act, 1894," was governed by an Urban District Council, but on 9th November, 1904, the Council expired, and Pemberton became a part of Wigan. The district is supplied with water, and lighted with electric light from works owned by the
 The church of St. John, a large brick building, was erected in 1832 and consists of nave with quasi-chancel, aisles, north and south porches, and a western turret containing one bell: the stained east window was erected in 1879 by subscription as a memorial to the Rev. Arthur Coates M.A. vicar of the parish, 1848-72: there are 1,300 sittings. The register dates from the year 1832. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £390, in the gift of the rector of Wigan, and held since 1887 by the Rev. Edward Francis Forrest M.A. of Corpus Christi college, Cambridge, and surrogate. St. Mark's parish was formed in 1891 from that of St. John: the church, in Victoria street, erected at a cost of £4,000, and consecrated 25 April, 1891, is a building of stone in the Early Geometric style, and consists of nave, aisles, south transept and small turret containing one bell: there are 526 sittings. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £246, in the gift of trustees, and held since 1889 by the Rev. John Hunt Newberry, of St. Bees. The memorial church of St. Matthew, Highfield, erected in 1894 by Col. H.
