

No1 Happy Lane

"Home, Sweet Home"

By Marsha Riminak

No1 Happy Lane

“Home, Sweet Home”

The next book in the series – No2 Happy Lane “Reduce, Reuse, Recycle all!”

Text and illustrations copyright © Sharmina Karim 2011

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in or introduced into a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form, or by any means (electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise) without the prior written permission of the publisher. Any person who does any unauthorised act in relation to this publication may be liable to criminal prosecution and civil claims for damages.

By Marsha Riminak

Paintings by Claire Kiernan

Under the sun and clear blue sky a yummy scrummy house stands high, until one very rainy day when Joshy's home is washed away.

He tries and tries to put it right and bakes all day and cooks all night. Though Joshy does his very best, it all ends up as one big mess!

So little spice, so little flour, it's getting wetter by the hour. With just a bowl, a whisk, a jug, he feels so sad; he needs a hug.

With no hope left he makes a start, puts all his things inside the cart and makes his way down Happy Lane to bake a lovely home again.

But Mai is standing in the snow, crying, for her whisk won't go. No fortune cookies baking here:
The party's off – oh dear, oh dear!

