Hi, i'm Tristan

Hello, i'm Joshua

The Big Bang BOOM

By Marsha Riminak

The painting is a highly textured, abstract work. The background is a vibrant, fiery red, suggesting a hot, dry environment. In the center, a tree with a thick, yellowish-brown trunk and a dense, light blue-green canopy stands prominently. The ground is a mix of dark brown, black, and yellowish-green, with a single, bright red flower in the lower center. The overall style is expressive and tactile, with visible brushstrokes and a rich color palette.

in the middle of the galaxy there was a planet called Smar.

it was so hot and dry that nothing was able to live on the surface.

However, deep underground with their family lived two very intelligent brothers, Joshua and Tristan.

As they couldn't go outside, they played indoors and fought with each other everyday.

What they wished for more than anything on Smar was to breath fresh air and feel the lovely sunshine.
