

(Almost) completed your studies: And now?

Are you about to graduate or have you recently completed a degree in nutrition? If so, you're probably already thinking about your next steps - and you might even have some ideas about your professional future. The event LivePorträts organised by the Swiss Academic Nutritionists SWAN gives you the opportunity to discover various career paths and areas of activity in the field of nutrition as well as to connect with inspiring professionals.

SWAN LivePorträts: For whom?

The SWAN LivePorträts are primarily aimed at current students of ETH (BSc Food Science and Nutrition; MSc Food Science and Nutrition; MAS in Nutrition and Health) and of BFH/FFHS (BSc Nutrition and Health; BSc Nutrition and Dietetics; MSc Nutrition and Dietetics; MSc in Life Sciences - Food, Nutrition and Health) as well as recent graduates of these or similar programmes (e.g. BSc/MSc Ecotrophology). The event is ideal for anyone interested in career opportunities in the public health sector, the food and pharmaceutical industries, or research and academia.
