Exercise 36

I'll eat an ice cream. You will understand. He's going to use a tablet computer. She will speak Cornish. We shall meet in the café. You'll be seeing a good film. They will run home. The woman will wait for the bus. Peternel will be playing sport. The learners are going to do the easy exercise.

Exercise 37

Crysten and Tôny are going to have lunch with two friends, Jenefer and Mathew, in a restaurant near Redruth. They'll be having pizzas. What are they saying?

Crysten:

Tôny, will you be eating one pizza? Or sharing one with me: half half?

Tôny:

No, I'll have a whole pizza. I'm hungry. So with three toppings.

Jenefer:

I'll split a pizza with you, Crysten. With two toppings perhaps.

Mathew:

I'll eat a whole pizza, and four toppings on it.

Crysten:

Four! And you aren't even fat!

Mathew:

Nope. I do ten kilometres every day on an exercise bike.

Tôny:

How many toppings are there?

Mathew:

Nine. Pepperoni, ham, chicken, mushrooms, olives, onion, pineapple, sweetcorn, and extra cheese.

Jenefer:

Maybe ham and mushrooms for us, Crysten?

Crysten:

Okay.

Tôny:

I shall have pepperoni, mushrooms, and olives.

Mathew:

Very good. And I'll be choosing pepperoni, chicken, onion, and extra cheese.

Crysten:

And after that, ten kilometres on the bike, then ten kilometres again!
