

Freedom of information request to academic services

4th May 2023

The vice chancellor claims:

'all appeals shall be initially considered by appropriately trained and experienced staff members of Academic Services, referred to as the Filtering Committee.'

As a public service, Please supply me with:

1. The training manual that is used to train academic services staff to become filtering committee members.
2. The selection process of how staff become filtering committee members.
3. The rules and regulations the filtering committee members should follow whilst determining an appeal.
4. The title of the person(s) who select the filtering committee members.
5. The title of the person(s) who train the filtering committee members.

Regards

Geoff Blanche
