Joyce Faulknor will be our guest artist in June.

Joyce is not only an accomplished artists, but also a teacher, a published artist, and has a new painting instruction program called Art 2 Art, which airs on KCSM-TV on Saturday mornings at 9 a.m. You won't want to miss Joyce's watercolor demo at our next meeting!

I always knew my destiny was to be an artist. I was fortunate to have parents who were talented and creative, and encouraged my sisters and me to pursue the art world. My early years as an illustrator taught me the rules of color, value, and composition always apply to any subject or style of painting. Watercolor captured my heart , and I never looked back. Watercolor continues to fascinate and surprise me. It is a medium that allows the spirit of the painting to thrive. What thrills me most with every painting is watching the development and transformation that take place. Teaching is my other passion. In 1991 I opened Emerald Lake Art Academy, in Redwood City, CA. Teaching 60 to 70 students a week ranging in age from 6 to 86 years old. In 1999 I decided to paint full time, and to instruct watercolor workshops. One of my goals was to be a published artist. I have now met that goal and my book "Stunning Crystal and Glass" Published by North Light Books is reaching aspiring artists worldwide. Directly related to the release of my book, I was approached by Teaching Art Ltd., in the UK to make my first instructional video. Stay tuned for more... Joyce Faulknor

Upcoming & Current Events

JUNE: The San Mateo County Fair has been moved up!! June 12-20. Time to get busy painting for the Fair once again. This year Leona Moriarty will be a sponsor for the "SAN MATEO COUNTY SCENES" category with a $150 award for best in watercolor, oil/acrylic or works on paper. The art piece must be no older than 3 years, and portray a recognizable location or subject in San Mateo County. For more information go to www.sanmateocountyfair.com and click on COMPETITIVE EXHIBITS & CONTESTS and then click on FINE ARTS.

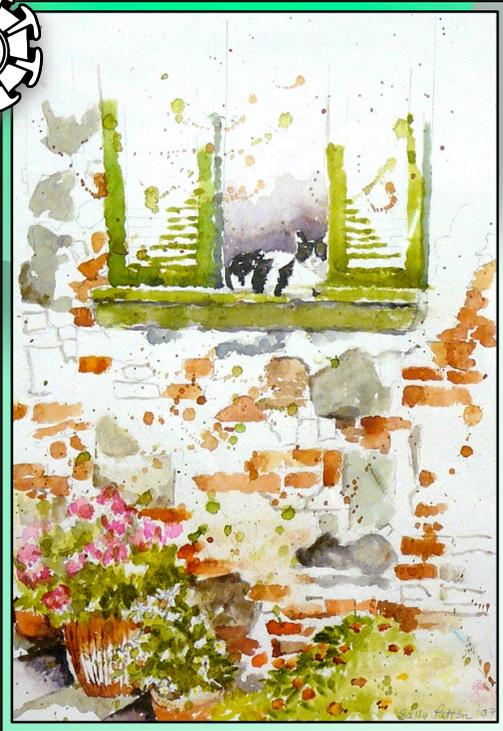

JUNE: "Art in the Park" is on again this year. The date is June 12-13. Lynne Flodin is coordinating this event, so please let her know if you want to participate this year. We have great fun while showing our work and picnicking at the park.

June: The Community Gallery at the Hall of Justice in Redwood City invited our group to join them in a very fine exhibit during the months of May and June. Twelve of our artists are now displaying their work. This is a fine venue since there are hundreds of potential jurors who pass through the area. There is no commission charged for any work sold, therefore, it is a very good marketplace to show and sell your work. If you are in the area, it is on the lower level of the Hall of Justice. While talking with the curator, we had the impression that we may exhibit there again in the future.

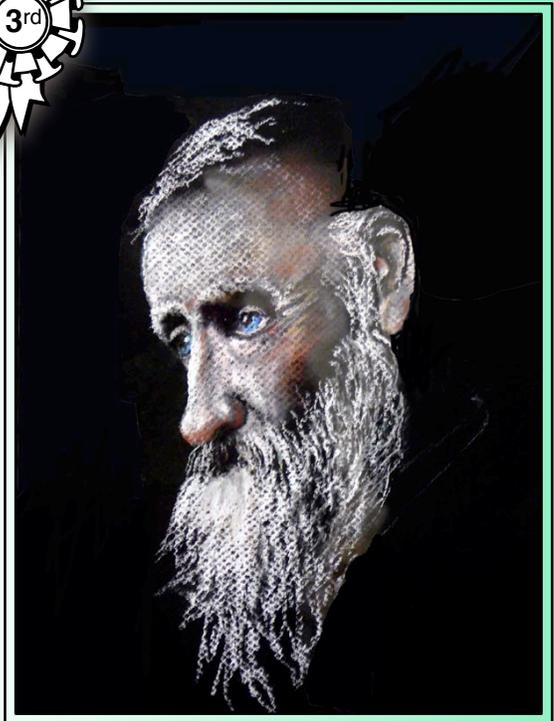

At City Hall in Burlingame we are currently highlighting the work of our lovely past president, Kay Johnson. She is exhibiting many outstanding works, mostly Burlingame scenes (which should go over big with the residents and officials of Burlingame). Kay is currently writing a book about Burlingame using illustrations of her cats in different Burlingame venues. Way to go Kay! And good luck on your new adventure in literature.

Don't forget we have a very active summer again this year, Art in the Park on June 12 and 13, Music in the Park on the four Sundays in July, and Paint Burlingame in August, sponsored by the Burlingame Historical Society and co-sponsored by BAS. These are fun events and a good way to get your work known. For more information and to sign up for these events contact Lynne Flodin at 347-6875. Also, sometime this summer expect an en plein air paint out. Pat McMorrow will fill us in later with more details.

We also have a new exhibit at Pacific Bank consisting of 14 works from our members. All of the above exhibits are very fine and, if you get a chance, please go to see them as they are a go source of inspiration.

Recap....

Mary Stahl demonstrated her pastel techniques at our last meeting on May 5th. Mary often paints en plein air and calls herself a plein air purist, who prefers to complete her oil or pastel paintings on location; not in a studio.

Mary's subject for her demo was a scene from Hope Valley, in the Sierras. She used a grey value study as an under-painting. When it was complete, she dipped a brush in isopropyl alcohol, and used it to blend and set the colors. As an alternative to the value study, Mary sometimes chooses to apply an under-painting of contrasting colors.

To dry the under-painting Mary used a fan, but when possible she allows the sun to dry her painting. She warned that the under-painting must be completely dry or the next layer of pastels will be gummy.

Using the broadside of a soft pastel stick, Mary began placing the various colors in her composition, with an occasional application of the opposite color for vibrancy.

Tip: If a painting is in need of repair, Mary scrubs off the affected area with a stubby brush or toothbrush. She then applies a fixative which gives the paper "more tooth" for the application of the corrected layer.

Thank you Mary for a very inspiring demonstration of your techniques and talents.

"I paint not only what my eyes see but what my other senses feel." Mary Stahl

President's Message

Congratulations to all winners and participants in our Spring Show. For those of you who are new, this is our signature event of the year, and we owe a great deal of gratitude to those board members and helpers who made it a success this year. Please be sure and take a moment to thank them.

We have been increasing our membership lately, and this is bringing new talent, artistic styles, and ways of thinking about art into our group every month. For those of you who have been around for awhile, please continue to seek out, welcome, and encourage our new members. For those of you who are new, please be patient with us as we get used to some new ideas and ways of thinking about art, drawing, and painting.

One result of having new members is an increased attendance at our monthly meetings. While this provides for wonderful and vibrant time together, it is also harder to hear and see the demonstrations. The board has started to investigate the possibility of obtaining a better sound system, and any ideas are welcome. In the mean time, hopefully, we can help people near us to hear better if we try and keep the conversations and attention directed toward the demonstrator.

Donald Mulliken

BAS members: If you would like to have your art exhibits listed on our website in the Calendar of Events, please e-mail Sofia Medeiros sofiaes@aol.com.
