

Privacy Policy

Protecting your private information is our priority. This Statement of Privacy applies to www.masonrydivision.com and The Masonry Division and governs data collection and usage. For the purposes of this Privacy Policy, unless otherwise noted, all references to The Masonry Division include www.themasonrydivision.com. The Masonry Division website is a General Information site. By using the Masonry Division website, you consent to the data practices described in this statement.

Collection of your Personal Information

In order to provide you with products and services offered, The Masonry Division may collect personally identifiable information such as your:

- First and Last Name
- Mailing Address
- E-mail Address
- Phone Number

We do not collect any personal information about you unless you voluntarily provide it to us. However, you may be required to provide certain personal information to us when you elect to use certain products or services. These may include: (a) registering for an account; (b) entering a sweepstakes or contest sponsored by us or one of our partners; (c) signing up for special offers from selected third parties; (d) sending us an email message; (e) submitting your credit card or other payment information when ordering or purchasing products and services. We will use your information for, but not limited to, communicating with you in relation to products and/or services you have requested from us. We also may gather additional personal or non-personal information in the future.

Use of your Personal Information

The Masonry Division collects and uses your personal information to operate and deliver the services you have requested. The Masonry Division may also use your personally identifiable information to inform you of other services or products available from The Masonry Division and its affiliates.

Sharing Information with Third Parties

The Masonry Division does not sell, rent, or lease its customer lists to third parties. The Masonry Division may share data with trusted partners to help perform statistical analysis, send you email or postal mail, provide customer support, process payments, process Service agreements, arrange for deliveries or schedule appointments. All such third parties are prohibited from using your personal information except to provide these services to The Masonry Division, and they are required to maintain the confidentiality of your information. The Masonry Division may disclose your information, without notice, if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to (a) conform to the edicts of the law or comply with legal process served on The Masonry Division or the site; (b) defend and protect the rights or property of The Masonry Division; and/or (c) act under exigent circumstances to protect the safety of users of The Masonry Division, or the public.

Automatically Collected Information

Information about your computer hardware and software may be collected automatically. This information may include your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring website addresses. The information is used for operation of the service, to maintain quality of the service, and to provide general statistics regarding use of The Masonry Division Website.

Links

The Masonry Division website may contain links to other sites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware that when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information.

Security of your Personal Information

The Masonry Division secures your personal information from unauthorized access, use or disclosure. The Masonry Division uses the following methods for this purpose:

- SSL Protocol (website)
- Secure storage and disposal of tangible documents (paper)
- When personal information such as credit card information is transmitted to other websites, it is protected by the use of encryption such as The Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) protocol. We strive to take appropriate security measures to protect against unauthorized access or alteration of your personal information. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the internet or any wireless network can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, while we strive to protect your personal information, you acknowledge that: (a) there are security and privacy limitations inherent to the internet which are beyond our control; and (b) security, protection, and privacy of any and all information or data exchanged between you and us through the site cannot be guaranteed.

Right to Deletion

Subject to certain expectations set, on receipt of a verifiable request from you, we will:

- Delete your personal information from our records; and
- Direct any service providers to delete your information from their records.

Please note that we may not be able to comply with requests to delete your personal information if it is necessary to:

- Complete the transaction for which the personal information was collected, fulfill the terms of a written warranty or product recall conducted in accordance with Federal law, provide a good or service requested by you, or reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform a contract between you and us;
- Detect security incidents, protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent or illegal activity; or prosecute those responsible for that activity;
- Debug to identify and repair errors that impair existing functionality;
- Exercise free speech, ensure the right of another consumer to exercise his or her right of free speech, or exercise another right provided for by law;
- Comply with the California Electronic Communications Privacy Act;
- Engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific, historical or statistical research in the public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws, when our deletion of information is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of such research, provided we have obtained your informed consent;
- Enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with your expectations based on your relationship with us;
- Comply with an existing legal obligation; Or
- Otherwise use your personal information, internally, in a lawful manner which is compatible with the context in which you provided the information.

Children Under Thirteen

The Masonry Division does not knowingly collect personally identifying information from children under the age of thirteen. If you are under the age of thirteen you must ask permission from a parent or guardian to use this site.

E-Mail Communications

From time to time, The masonry Division may contact you via email for the purpose of providing announcements, promotional offers, alerts, confirmations, surveys, and/or other general communication.

Changes to This Statement

The Masonry Division reserves the right to change this privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of significant changes in the way we treat personal information by sending an email to the primary email address specified in your account, by placing a prominent notice on our website and/or Services available after such modifications will constitute your; (a) acknowledgement of the modified Privacy Policy; and (b) agreement to abide and be bound by that Policy.

Contact Information

The Masonry Division welcomes your questions regarding this Statement of Privacy. Contact information is as follows:

Mail:
The Masonry Division
PO Box 1412
Palm Springs CA
92263

Email:
Themasonrydivision@gmail.com

Phone:
(951) 551-9163

Effective as of 01/01/2022

