Ophir is one of the most interesting, smart and sensitive guy. I joined to an outdoor training with Ophir, he led us several hours in the forest in a way that no one did before. I knew that I had there the right person to trust on, he made me feel comfortable and along with that- I met myself again and again, I have challenged myself, I discovered the real me and thanks to Ophir, I felt amazing.

we were a group of people that didnt know each other. at the end of that day, we became friends.

by the way - one time I met Ophir in the dead sea, while he was with a tourist. we hugged each other like old friends and I listened to the explanations and stories he told to the tourist. it was like they were the only people around, he had so much to share and with a big big heart!!!

Ophir, I thank god so many times for that day we first met :-)
