

For those who are listening, God speaks in “Soft Whispers and Loud Thunders”

By Gay Nelson

SURPRISES!

Listen as the Lord promises you a ‘SUDDENLY’...

“Yesterday’s motions will not always work in this day. It’s a new climate and the winds that swirl around you are of a different sound. Sometimes you must go lightly, yet at other times you must make your presence known for the hour. Passion and purpose will push you. My Word in you is your guide.

The sound of the trumpets will soon appear. Flow with them. Abide in the melody of strength, power, and wisdom. Lean ever on Me, as I AM your strength.

Openness is on the horizon, and you will step into a new place. Much will be expected of you here. Give your all. Don’t give time to enemy voices but rather rest in My Word in you. I AM your shalom. I AM your ever-abiding faith. My face is on you.

Courage will arise and stay in you. I will abundantly supply for you in every realm. Keep your focus on My purpose. Never let it wane. Never draw back. I will surprise you over and over again. There are so many surprises ahead!

Walk circumspectly and vigilant. The hour calls for inward cleansing, purity, integrity, and you must sow these seeds into those around you. Don’t count it a small thing to be like Me.

There is a race on to take from you, but I will confirm what I have given you. The seed will be yours. Watch it grow!

Tend the business of mending nets. I will supply the boat and the water...and the helpers.”
