

Unyielding Sovereignty - My Soul's Energetic Declaration

by Pedro Lima

I do not entertain, accept, or tolerate any obsessive, parasitic, clingy, needy, or codependent energetic attachments from others.

I honor only connections rooted in mutual sovereignty, where energy is exchanged with integrity, respect, and conscious presence and acceptance.

I value relationships that stand on sacred autonomy, not emotional parasitic extraction. I recognize the frequency of dishonor instantly, and I have the inner discernment and strength to cut off anyone who approaches my energy without integrity, regardless of their level of awareness, expectations, or how others feel about my decision.

I carry sole responsibility for my own sovereign energy, never for the emotional, mental, or spiritual burdens of others.

What is mine, I tend to with devotion.

What is not mine, I release without hesitation.

This is my Soul's Sacred Sovereign Energetic Declaration, unapologetic, grounded, and divinely aligned.
