

One Planet. One Origin. One Consciousness

by Pedro Lima

Borders are lines on maps. Identity attached to nationalities is an indoctrinated story we inherited. But beneath nationalities, we are the same breath, the same planet, the same divine universal cosmic energetic sparks, interconnected, eternal, one with all that is.

This is a reminder to detach from the ego's "my nation vs your nation" and feel into something ancient, deeper, and real, our shared home, our shared origin, our shared consciousness.

When we stop clinging to egoic indoctrinated beliefs, cultures, stories that divide us, we finally remember the truth that unites us.
