

I Honor my Soul Blueprint Unapologetically

by Pedro Lima

I never sought to be like anyone else.

I do not worship people, systems, institutions, dogmas or illusions.

I do not comply, conform, or become subservient to the expectations, judgments, or demands of others.

I do not self-betray for the comfort of anyone or anything.

I am the embodiment of my sovereign, unique Soul blueprint, whole, self-validated, and aligned with my inner authority.

My inherent divine worth cannot be measured, assigned, or defined by any external metric. It exists beyond titles, nationalities, ideologies, man made laws, identities, projections, or societal egoic attachments, illusions, linear timelines.

I am presence.

I am whole.

I honor my humanness.

I am one with the Universe, with all that is, all that ever was, and all that will ever be.
