

I Choose Sovereign Alignment Over Every External Illusion, Validation

by Pedro Lima

I do not rely on or worship any person or institution.

I refuse to compromise my inner knowing, inner wisdom, inner authority, or authentic truth to satisfy societal indoctrination, "middle-man" spiritual intermediaries, or any religious narratives claiming to stand between me and the Universe, my star family, my soul cosmic companions, or Gaia.

I do not give away my power to any person, system, dogma or ideology.

I am sovereign.

I am aligned.

I am whole.

I am presence.

I am one with the Universe.

I do not comply, conform, or trust any dogma, ideology, or distorted narrative designed to control perception, create separation, diminish the collective, or enforce hollow stories that benefit the agendas of the few.

No belief system that undermines the divine essence of humanity has authority over my Soul.

I am accountable for my inner work.

For healing.

For releasing.

For alchemizing the lower frequencies within myself through heart coherence and truthful self-awareness.

I choose to align with my Soul's core values.

I choose intuition over indoctrination.

I choose inner wisdom over external permission.

I choose presence, consciousness, and self-awareness to navigate every experience with discernment.

To be consumed by fear is a choice.

Self-victimization is a choice.

Self-liberation is also a choice.

When I embody the frequency of love, the truth of my own pure heart, I resonate with the frequency of the Universe itself.

I choose inner sovereign authority over every external illusion.

I choose truth over conditioning.

I choose alignment over approval.

I choose myself.

I am whole and one with all that is and always will be.
