

As Co-Creators, We are Responsible for the Energy Frequency We Choose to Cultivate

by Pedro Lima

Clinging to obsessive, impulsive, manipulative hollow narcissism, petty envy, jealousy, arrogance, and prideful ignorance, projecting thoughts, emotions, intentions, and actions with ill will, hatred, or malice, using words to gaslight, control, bind, dominate, harm, or diminish others, is a choice.

Whether conscious or unconscious, delusional egoic attachments, entitlement, titles, curated false identities, false authority, or ill intentions do not exempt us from karmic law.

When we choose to react from fear, anger, hatred, jealousy, or envy, allowing ourselves to be consumed by falsehood, deception, unresolved emotional wounds, and deep-rooted unworthiness, we attach to surface-level chaos: petty, bitter, distorted drama used to justify hypocritical moral righteousness, self-serving beliefs, and delusional narratives designed to harvest sympathy.

This is the shallow “minions” club sustained by misery, mediocrity, self-victimization, illusion, gossip, and fear-based, soulless frameworks.

In every moment of life, we hold the power of choice to be aware, conscious, and aligned with the values of the heart and divine law, to take accountability for the energy we emit into the Universe, to remember that as co-creators of our reality, we are responsible for the energetic frequency we cultivate, regardless of what is presented to us along our soul’s journey.

No man-made, parasitic bureaucratic maze of laws, curated identities, false authority, or prideful entitlement stands above karmic law.

The more we focus on control, domination, exploitation, and the destruction of others, the more we set ourselves onto an unforgettable divine karmic ride, choosing the path of self-destruction.

True sovereignty is about staying in our lane, devoting ourselves to our inner work, rediscovering and aligning with our soul compass, and taking radical, honest responsibility for our inner world and the energetic frequency we offer the Universe. It is the shedding of indoctrinated conditioning and societal energetic layers, the alchemy of learning, integrating, expanding awareness and perception, the journey of remembrance, finding our way back home.

It is reclaiming our authentic, sovereign truth and inner authority. It is refusing to compromise our inner knowing, wisdom, peace, or guidance for anyone or anything.

Ignorance is a choice, but Divine Order is not. We always reap what we sow.

This is soul remembrance.

This is raw truth.

This is conscious choice.
