

Sovereign Inner Declaration

by Pedro Lima

Narcissistic, insecure, prideful ignorant entitled dysfunctional people, out of spite, hide behind hate, envious and jealous of anyone who shines authentically, knows who they are, sovereign, independent, self-validated, mirroring back to those who choose to cling to curated, fragmented false identities, and deep rooted unresolved unworthiness, codependency on the external world for approval, belonging, acceptance, and validation.

I stand unapologetically true to my authentic self, honoring my inner knowing, inner wisdom, and multidimensional sacred energy.

I do not compromise my inner authority, sovereign authenticity, or self-deceive and self-betray to sooth anyone's egos, expectations, opinions, judgments, and I do not please or appease anyone for likes, favors, gain followers, or clap.

Regardless of what any fragile, envious and jealous insecure petty and bitter people has to say about me, I do not allow their unresolved fears, emotional traumas, unworthiness self-victimized or grandiose delusional narcissistic attachments to dictate how I live and honor my life according to what resonates with my Soul.

I express myself unapologetically, authentically, sovereign, self-validated and grounded in my inner knowing, inner wisdom, inner truth, trusting, relying and guided by my inner compass.

No one completes me. I am whole. I am enough.

I do not consent anyone to be entitled to my sacred expansive energy.

I do not resonate with the normalization of a society consumed by ignorance, denial, deception, and fear.

I do not resonate also with herd self-victimization, complacency, comfort in self-betrayal for please or appease others, or bring obedient, subservient and submissive to false hierarchies, false authority figures.

I do not dim my own sacred raw inner authentic sovereign truth to fit into a parasitic , surface level narcissistic hollow society that lacks inner substance.

I am the leader of my life, and I am not swayed, influenced, coerced by the falsehood, and propaganda disseminated to condition my inner world.

I take accountability for the energies that I choose to put out to the Universe, regardless of life circumstances.

I detached myself from herd popularity, trends, or judgments.

I think for myself, being self-reliant and self-validated. My inherent self-worth is not attached to any nationality, ID card, tax payer number, predefined societal curated identity, title, role or distorted stories.

I know who I am in truth, integrity, and honor. I trust myself always. I choose only to connect with Authentic, genuine, sovereign, independent souls.
