

Alchemical Self-Liberation - Rising Beyond External Energetic Projection and Parasitism

The petty, envious, bitter, mediocre, deceptive, and insecure individuals who project ill intent, malice, and “evil eye” toward me, wishing for my downfall to soothe their fragile, curated, delusional false selves entered and will be entering an undeniable karmic cycle.

These insecure “minions” plotted, slandered, gossiped, gaslighted, and undermined.
They believed their parasitic thoughts, intentions, words, and actions could harm me.
They believed they could dim my authentic, sovereign light or drag my energy down to their low-consciousness energetic frequency.

They assumed that destroying my name, character, and reputation, recruiting others into their misery club, casting hollow intentions, obsessing, attaching, clinging, would stop me in spirit or in flesh from ascending.

What they failed to see is that they were consumed by their own fears.
Their unresolved emotional pain.
Their trauma bonds.
Their entitled, self-victimized narcissistic parasitic roles.

Lacking courage, integrity, honor, dignity, and self-accountability, they targeted someone who triggered their insecurity.
Someone who embodied authentic sovereign truth.
Someone who refused to self-betray for belonging, approval, safety, or validation.

So they lied in the shadows.
They manipulated, deceived, gaslighted, and crafted hollow narratives to protect their fragile false selves.

But choosing a hollow throne built on pride, paranoia, and ignorance invokes divine karmic law.
Their narcissistic paranoia is a mirror of their own self-conditioning, emotional immaturity, self-sabotage, and fear of irrelevance.
An egoic escape valve from their own shadows.

They ignored warnings.
They ignored signs.
They chose to continue.

Consequences are unfolding in divine order.

While they hate, envy, and project, believing they can stop me, I remain clear, grounded in my inner knowing, inner wisdom, inner discernment, seeing through their petty manipulative, deceptive games:

I am not responsible for their inner state.

I am responsible only for my own inner world.

My thoughts.
My intentions.
My emotions.
My choices.
My frequency.

I reap what I sow, not what anyone else sows.

My path does not require labels, justification, sympathy, or approval from anyone else.
It is to be honored, integrated, and lived without egoic strings of judgment of right or wrong, good or bad.

I choose alignment.

I choose healing.

I choose transcendence and alchemy.

I choose Self-responsibility.

I navigate darkness guided by my inner compass.

I do not lose faith in myself, the Universe, my ancestors, or my Star family.

Nothing external defines my worth and essence.

I am self-sufficient.

I am self-validated.

I am self-responsible.

I lead my own life.

I am enough.

I am whole.

No one completes me.

I know who I am in sovereignty, integrity, truth and authenticity.

No one dictates my identity.

No one is entitled to my sacred energy.

I allow into my life only those who meet me in respect, honor, dignity, integrity, and mutual growth.

My Soul's sacred energetic blueprint cannot be copied, mimicked, stolen, or embodied by anyone else. It is solely mine.

I stand for my true authentic self unapologetically, regardless of what anyone else has to say about it. It is what it is, as it is.

I do not compromise my inner authority for anyone or anything.

I liberate myself from any chaotic karmic energetic entanglement of others.

“What seeks to dim my light only reveals its fear of illumination; I remain accountable only to my inner truth, and karma handles the rest.” - Pedro
