

Sovereign Without Entanglement

by Pedro Lima

I do not entangle my sacred energy with anyone or anything.

I do not seek completion through another, nor invite anyone to complete me.

I am enough.

I am whole.

I am sovereign.

I engage in relationships of any kind only where there is mutual reciprocity rooted in honor, authenticity dignity, integrity, sovereignty and genuine acceptance.

Access to my energy is not assumed.

It is earned through alignment.

My energy is sacred, expansive, and costly not in scarcity, but in authentic sovereign value.

Those who wish to engage with it must arrive with presence, integrity, authenticity and truth.

There is no entitlement here. No extraction. No bypass.

I do not consent to anyone harvesting, claiming, or feeding on my energy.

My inner peace is not for sale.

I set firm, clear boundaries with anyone who does not have my highest good at heart.

Not in anger.

Not in fear.

But in self-respect, self-love, and self-acceptance.

This is not isolation. It is spiritual discernment.

This is not separation. It is remembrance of inner sovereignty.

I know who I am in truth and how I co-create a legacy with the Universe in truth.
