MYSTERY DEPARTURE OF SACOS CLUB

ACRFC TOURS

MYSTERY surrounds the departure for London yesterday of 15 members of the Sacos-affiliated Arabian College rugby club who, some claim, will be playing five matches against English sides during their overseas tour.

The team members, who left for Johannesburg bound for London in their official blazers and ties, took off from the B. J. Vorster Airport early yesterday morning.

If the team does play against teams in England, it will be breaking a cardinal Sacos principle.

In spite of claims by three independent sources that the team was to play five matches in England, Sacos spokesmen and members of the player's families insisted the team had embarked merely on a sightseeing tour of England and Europe.

A former Griqua player, who declined to be named, said the Sacos-affiliated team was definitely visiting England to play five matches.

He also said seven white players would join the team.

Two other people, neither of whom wished to be named, also claimed the team was to play five matches in England, contrary to Sacos rules. They could be seen to double standards if they played overseas.

The team was said to have played overseas in South Africa during the last year.

It is definitely against Sacos rules if the club were to play any matches overseas — said he presumed the team was not going to play any matches in England because it had not been registered with the union as a touring club.

"As far as I am concerned, the team does not intend to play any games overseas."

A provincial rugby player connected with Sacos, who said the team was travelling as a rugby club with supporters, said he was not aware of scheduled games in England.

Mrs Dennis Connor, wife of team member Keith Connor, said the trip was purely a sightseeing tour and that the team did not intend playing any matches or attending coaching sessions.

She said the team would be visiting London, Munich, Paris, Switzerland and Amsterdam and would arrive back in Kimberley on Sunday.

One of the party represented Griqualand West in the South African Cup rugby competition last year. One of the players, Keith Connor, plays cricket for Pirates under the auspices of the Griqualand West Cricket Union which is affiliated to the South African Cricket Union.

RUGBYKLUB NA EUROPA

Van Ons Korrespondent

KIMBERLEY. — 'n Droom is bewaarheid vir die lede van 'n rugbyklub in die stad toe hulle van die lughawe B. J. Vorster vertrek het op 'n toer van drie weke deur Europa.

Dit was 'n gedenkwaardige dag toe lede van Arabian College na Brittanje vertrek het op 'n toer wat al twee jaar gelede in die vooruitsig gestel is. Op 'n tydstip sou al die lede saamgaan, maar weens verskeie faktore het die aantal toerlede vermindert tot vyftien.

Die oogmerk is om soveel moontlik oorsese rugbywedstryde by te woon en so 'n ander benadering van die spel aan te leer. Hulle sal ook die beroemde rugbyvelde in Brittanje besoek.

Van Londen vertrek die groep na Amsterdam, Parys, München, Luzern en Zürich en keer op 1 Februarie terug na Suid-Afrika.

Mnr. Alwie Alexander, sekretaris van die klub en ook toerleier, het voor hul vertrek bevestig dat die lede as enkelinge en nie as 'n span reis nie en dat elke toerlid sy eie koste dra. Die span sal ook nie oorsese aan enige wedstryde deelneem nie.

Mnr. Donald Jacobs, organiseerder van die toer, het ook bevestig dat geen wedstryde oorsese gespeel sal word nie. „Sien jy dalk enige spelers wat hul rugby-sakke by hulle het?” het hy goedig gespot.

Gerugte doen die ronde in Kimberley dat die span oorsese vyf wedstryde gaan speel en dat vyf blanke spelers hul by die span sal aansluit. 'n Beampete van die span het dit ontken.
