Foreword

Welcome to the comprehensive documentation of Ogulla Cemetery, located 1.4km from Tulsk on the west side of the R367 road towards Castleplunket, County Roscommon. This document serves as a meticulous record of the cemetery's grave markers, complete with pertinent details and accompanying photographs. Each entry is organised alphabetically by surname, facilitating ease of reference for those seeking specific information.

Ogulla Cemetery is steeped in history, situated near Ogulla Holy Well and Shrine, a site believed to be where St. Patrick baptised Eithne and Fidelma, the daughters of the High King of Ireland. The rectangular cemetery is bounded by a stone wall, with headstones primarily from the 19th and 20th centuries, along with some dating back to the 18th century.

In this document, you will find invaluable data encompassing the inscriptions engraved on each headstone, providing insight into the individuals laid to rest within this cemetery. Whether for genealogical research, historical documentation, or personal remembrance, this document endeavours to preserve the legacies of those interred in Ogulla Cemetery.

The production of this document was made possible through the diligent efforts of local historians and contributors, whose collective dedication and expertise have ensured the thoroughness and accuracy of the information presented.

Thank you to everyone who has contributed to this publication. We hope it serves as a tribute to the lives memorialised in Ogulla Cemetery, honouring their memory and enriching our understanding of local history and heritage.
