Foreword

Welcome to the comprehensive documentation of Toberelva Cemetery, in the ancient parish of Baslick is located northwest of the R367 road, 1.5 kilometres on the Tulske side of Castleplunkett.

It takes its name from an ancient well, Tobar Ailbhe, located immediately outside the cemetery wall. The Annals of the Four Masters records the death of Donough, son of Murtough, son of Hugh O'Connor at Tobar Ailbhe in 1474.

The Annals of Lough Cé under the date 1551 reports that the Earl of Clanrickard, having failed to take Roscommon Castle, advanced his army to Tobar Ailbhe where the fortress of Ruaidhri MacDiarmaid was. The gable wall of the mortuary chapel built by the Plunkett family in 1723 dominates the burial ground.

In this document, you will find invaluable data encompassing the inscriptions engraved on each headstone, providing insight into the individuals and stories. Whether your purpose is genealogical research, historical inquiry, or personal remembrance, this compilation endeavours to preserve the memory of those interred and to shed light on the enduring significance of this historic cemetery.

The production of this document was made possible through the diligent efforts of local historians and contributors, whose collective dedication and expertise have ensured the thoroughness and accuracy of the information presented. Sincere thanks are extended to all who have contributed to this publication. We hope it serves as a tribute to the lives memorialised in Toberelva Cemetery, honouring their memory and deepening our appreciation of local heritage.
