

{ROLL N HAUL LLC} Fee Disclosure Agreement

Understanding our rates, charges, and fees:

{ROLL N HAUL LLC} and any operating subsidiaries of {ROLL N HAUL LLC} are committed to providing high-quality service to you through operations that are safe, responsible and sustainable. Each operating subsidiary is responsible for managing its own operations and billing its customers. And, while there are several variables that impact base service rates, charges and fees among our operating subsidiaries, this page provides disclosures and additional information to you regarding some of the most common charges and fees that you may see in your contract and/or on your invoice. Some charges and fees may vary by subsidiary and type of service and location, these variables may span across all subsidiaries. These charges and fees help each operating subsidiary recover its direct and indirect costs of operation.

The types and amounts of charges and fees applicable to your service were disclosed to you at the time of your booking. Please refer to the information in this disclosure to help you understand the charges and fees you may encounter.

For more information regarding those charges, fees, and rate amounts, please refer below:

1. Environmental Recovery Fee

The Environmental Recovery Fee (“ERF”) is an enterprise-wide recurring fee that is a set percentage of all invoice charges, except taxes. It is not a tax, surcharge or fee mandated by or remitted to any governmental or regulatory agency. The ERF is intended to help our businesses recover both direct and indirect costs associated with the operation of collection, transfer, landfill, recycling and landfill gas-to-energy services and facilities nationwide in an environmentally sustainable manner, and it includes an amount designed to achieve an acceptable operating margin. The current ERF is 18%. {ROLL N HAUL LLC} regularly monitors these costs and may change the ERF at {ROLL N HAUL LLC’s} discretion. Your ERF will be combined with your FRF on your invoice.

2. Fuel Recovery Fee

The Fuel Recovery Fee (“FRF”) is an enterprise-wide recurring fee that is a fluctuating percentage of all invoice charges, except the ERF and taxes. It is not a tax, surcharge or fee mandated by or remitted to any governmental or regulatory agency. The FRF is intended to help our businesses recover both direct and indirect fuel, petrochemical, electric, and compressed natural gas costs associated with the operation of collection, transfer, landfill and recycling services and facilities nationwide, and it includes an amount designed to achieve an acceptable operating margin. Each monthly FRF rate is determined by cross-referencing FRF Table with the peak weekly diesel price per gallon, published in the 30-day period ending on the 15th of the month, as reported by the U.S. Department of Energy Information Administration.. ROLL N HAUL LLC monitors those costs regularly and reserves the right to change its method of determining the FRF at its discretion. Your FRF will be combined with your ERF on your invoice.

{ROLL N HAUL LLC} Fee Disclosure Agreement

3. Administrative Fee

The Administrative Fee (“ADMIN”) is an enterprise-wide recurring fee. It is not a tax, surcharge or fee mandated by or remitted to any governmental or regulatory agency. The ADMIN is intended to help our businesses recover costs associated with the administrative processes related to account maintenance, invoicing and payment processing for all customers, and it includes an amount designed to achieve an acceptable operating margin. The ADMIN is currently {$5.95} per invoice but is subject to change at any time at {ROLL N HAUL LLC’ 's} discretion.

4. Rate Increases

Throughout the course of providing your service, {ROLL N HAUL LLC} may increase your rates for service. Rate increases are necessitated over time to keep up with increasing costs of operations and to ensure {ROLL N HAUL LLC} is maintaining an acceptable operating margin and/or an acceptable rate of return on its investment in the services provided, which will be in the form of a change on your invoice. The operating subsidiary providing your service reserves the right to determine in its sole discretion the amount of all rates and rate increases. Your invoice will provide notice of the rates for service during the Term covered by such invoice.

5. Recycling Processing Charge

The Recycling Processing Charge (“RPC”) is an enterprise-wide recurring charge imposed on customers receiving recycling services. The RPC is intended to help our businesses recover both direct and indirect costs associated with the processing of materials received at its recycling facilities necessitated by high levels of contamination, strict specifications by purchasers of commodities, and highly fluctuating commodity values. The RPC is determined monthly by cross-referencing RPC Table with the lowest US average price per ton for Old Corrugate Containers – Pulp & Paper Index (“OCC-PPI”) as published during the previous month by Fastmarkets RISI PPI Pulp & Paper Week. For your convenience, {ROLL N HAUL LLC} will post the price per ton for OCC-PPI used each calendar month to determine the RPC. {ROLL N HAUL LLC} reserves the right to change its method of determining the RPC at any time at its discretion.

{ROLL N HAUL LLC} Fee Disclosure Agreement

6. Container Delivery and Removal Fees

The operating subsidiary providing your service will provide containers (in some cases for a rental charge) for your convenience with respect to the collection and on-site storage of your solid waste and recyclable materials. Container delivery and removal fees are intended to offset {ROLL N HAUL LLC's} operational costs of sending a truck to deliver your container(s) at the start of your service and removing your container(s) when your service terminates, as well as costs related to cleaning, repairs and refurbishment of the containers following your use. Container delivery and removal fees are set by each operating subsidiary and are subject to change at any time at that operating subsidiary's discretion. Container delivery and removal fees are charged at the operating subsidiary's prevailing rate at the time of delivery or removal for Invoice-to-Invoice Customers; however, neither your container delivery fee nor your container removal fee will exceed {$99 per container.}

7. Cancellation Fee

If you fail to pay your invoice on or before its due date, the operating subsidiary providing your service reserves the right to suspend your service until you pay all outstanding invoices. It also reserves the right to charge you a service interruption fee. Service interruption fees are intended to mitigate some of {ROLL N HAUL LLC's} loss of return on the container assets in the customers' possession and for the interruption in its business and costs associated with stopping and restarting service. Service interruption fees are charged at the operating subsidiary's prevailing rate at the time of service interruption for Invoice-to-Invoice Customers; however, your cancellation fee will {not exceed $99.} You may cancel your service(s) by calling the telephone number on your invoice {or customer support at (555) 555-5555}. Please note that advanced notice is required to cancel service(s).

8. Late Payment Fee

If you fail to pay your invoice on or before its due date, the operating subsidiary providing your service reserves the right to charge you a late payment fee. Late payment fees are intended to help {ROLL N HAUL LLC} recover its costs incurred in managing customers' unpaid accounts. Late payment fees are set by each operating subsidiary and are subject to change at any time at that operating subsidiary's discretion; however, your late payment fee will not exceed {the greater of $100 or up to 10%} of the applicable charges, subject to applicable law.

9. Taxes

{ROLL N HAUL LLC} Fee Disclosure Agreement

Some services provided by {ROLL N HAUL LLC} (including equipment rental) may be subject to state, local and/or franchise taxes or fees. If applicable, such state, and/or local taxes or fees will be separately itemized on your invoice, collected by the operating subsidiary providing your service and submitted to the appropriate taxing authority and/or franchise authority.