Driver Education: Driving and mobile phones

To keep yourself and other road users safe your full attention is needed when driving. Driving while using a mobile phone held in your hand is illegal—even if you're stopped in traffic.

This means you can not:

- hold the phone next to or near your ear with your hand
- write, send or read a text message
- turn your phone on or off
- operate any other function on your phone: this includes talking on “facetime”; monitoring or recording of photo or video images for Facebook, Instagram or Snapchat

Using your mobile phone safely:

- If you must have your mobile phone on, install a hands-free kit so you can legally drive and talk on your phone (for open or P2 provisional licence holders only).
- You can use a mobile phone held in your hand if you are legally parked. Parked means stopped with the intention of staying at that place.

If your mobile phone is in a mounting bracket on the windscreen, it must not obscure your view of the road.

These mobile phone rules do not apply to CB radios or any other two-way radios.

Do not record nor post photos or video footage of Hawgood Haulage P/L vehicles
